Old Landmark Burns In Montreal

Temporary Lull In Hot Debate On Veto Powers

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (CP)—A temporary lull in the heated debate raging over Big Five Control of the United Nations Security Council was expected to follow a proposal today that the Big Five delegation leaders get together on means of restricting use of the veto.

A British plan aimed at softening the veto was submitted to the major powers by Foreign Secretary Bevin as a basis for Big Five consultations on the veto which authoritative sources said probably would begin Monday.

As a result of agreement among the Big Five Friday night to hold consultations, France was expected to propose that the General Assembly's 51-power Political and Security Committee suspend the veto debate while the Big Five meet to try to agree on a formula that will satisfy their opponents.

'VITAL INTEREST'

Although full details of the British plan were being kept secret, authoritative sources disclosed it made these suggestions:

1. The possibility of limiting the veto for use only when the negative-voting country's "own vital interests" are concerned. If used under such a system, the British propose that the country applying the veto make plain to the Security Council her "vital interests" in the matter.

2. That abstention from voting should not be considered a veto. Under the present Security Council rules an abstention by one of the Big Five is considered a negative vote, and thus a veto.

3. That the Council should be more of a mediation and conciliation board, making every attempt to nip disputes by direct settlement and thus lessen the opportunity of using the veto.
4. Define more clearly exactly what is not a dispute.

Divorces To Sept. 30 Exceed 1945 Total

British Columbia courts during the first nine months of this year granted more divorce decrees than during the 12 months of 1945.

The provincial Department of Health today reported that during September of this year 105 divorces and six nullities were granted in comparison with 66 divorces and two nullities granted during September, 1945. These September totals brought the total for the first nine months of this year to 1,416 compared with 1,365 during the whole of 1945.

Army Recruiting Starts Next Week

The drive to recruit 2,000 men for the Reserve Army in Victoria will start next week to bring the units here up to strength.

Army searchlights will illuminate the Parliament Buildings and grounds every night during the week until 10.

A booth will be operated at Pandora and Douglas Streets every day, at which recruits will be accepted.

The commanding officers of the Victoria units are anxious to sign on veterans of World War II, or any other men over 18 years of age. Technicians of all types are wanted, and there are vacancies for bandsmen.

The Victoria units seeking new recruits are: 5th (B.C.) Coast Regiment, R.C.A.; 1st Canadian Scottish Regiment; 66th Light Anti-aircraft Regiment, R.C.A.; Nanaimo; 5th Area Signals Squadron, R.C.S.; 13th Field Ambulance, R.C.A.M.C.; 46th Field Hygiene Section, R.C.A.M.C.; 59th Light Anti-aircraft Workshop, R.C.E.M.E., and the 5th A.A. G.O.R.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP)—Fire of unknown origin Friday night destroyed the upper portion of the Renown Sea Cadets' barracks, causing damage estimated at $5,000.

Big Blast Marks End Of German Sub

Broken in half by force of the explosion, the German submarine U-977 rises out of the water off Cape Cod, Mass., before plunging to the bottom after being torpedoed by a U.S. submarine during "routine sinking" under the tripartite agreement.

Romania Says Free Election Sure; Britain, U.S. Anxious

BUCHAREST (AP)—Teohari Georgescu, Romania's Communist minister of the interior, said Friday night propaganda and the press had been unhampered in the campaign for next Tuesday's parliamentary election and the election itself would be free.

The 38-year-old official, at a conference for foreign newspapermen, was questioned as to whether all candidates had been given equal time on the radio. He said he had not been approached on the subject since he was minister of the interior.

(The United States and Britain recognized the Romanian government last Feb. 5 on condition free elections would be held.)

Georgescu, who read a 1,500-word statement of the government's viewpoint, said 7,968,714 persons over 21 had registered for the election, in which women will vote for the first time.

In the last free election in 1928, when women had no vote, about 3,700,000 voters were registered and about 2,900,000 cast ballots.

NEW BRITISH NOTE

LONDON (Reuter) — Adrian Holman, British minister in Bucharest, has been instructed to deliver a new British note to the Romanian government protesting against preparations now under way for next Tuesday's general election, it was learned on good authority here today.

The British note is believed to express regret that reports from Romania still show that full freedom is not being accorded to the opposition parties.

The note maintains Britain has every right to press for the fulfillment of assurances—given by Romanian government at the time of its recognition last spring—that civil liberties would be guaranteed.

A first British protest over the Romanian election campaign was delivered at the end of October, and was followed Nov. 2 by a Romanian reply saying comment from Britain was interference with Romanian domestic affairs.

The latest British step is not thought to be directly associated with the recent appeal of the Romanian opposition parties to the "Big Three" (Britain, the United States and Russia) to check abuses in the conduct of the election campaign.

U.S. ASKS GUARANTEE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today gave Romania another pre-election notice to guarantee opposition parties a square deal in Tuesday's balloting.

That was the main point behind the formal language of a note handed the Soviet-sponsored Romanian government by Bur-

16 Families Now Live At Macaulay

There are now 16 veterans' families and their children living in the huts at Macaulay Camp, A. Palmer, secretary of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council said today.

These 16 families are in huts which are not yet converted. Conversion work has started on another large hut which will accommodate seven families in three-room suites.

Mr. Palmer said he did not know how many children were now in the camp, but the first eight families had 31 children among them.

The City Council has received word from the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation that the federal company will share in financing the conversion of these units up to the sum of $5,000, paying half the costs up to that amount.

Krug May Ask Men To Work Despite Lewis

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration, in a toe-to-toe showdown fight with defiant John L. Lewis, sought grimly today to hold 400,000 soft coal miners to a government contract. United States Attorney-General Tom Clark says is binding.

No official was telling just what will be done if Mr. Lewis persists in his contention that he can and will terminate the contract next Wednesday midnight, halting production at the 3,300 government-operated mines.

But there was talk that Interior Secretary Krug may take to the radio, tell the miners their chief's manoeuvre has no legal justification and ask them to keep on mining coal.

Although represented as determined not to put Mr. Lewis in the role of "martyr," those concerned with the fuel crisis spoke of:

1. Possible action under the Smith-Connally Act, which provides a year in prison and a $5,000 fine for inciting a strike against the government.
2. A special session of the adjourned Congress to enact new laws forbidding strikes in so vital an industry as coal mining.

The Lewis position, however, is that there simply will be no valid contract in existence after the termination time he has set—and the United Mine Workers do not work without a contract.

Controls To Save Dominion From Nosedive, Says Ilsley

KENTVILLE, N.S. (CP) — A prediction that Canada's price controls would enable the Dominion to withstand any possible "nosedive" in world primary products prices was made here today by Finance Minister Ilsley.

In a speech at the annual meeting of the King's County Liberal Association, Mr. Ilsley said that "considering the high prices at which cotton, wheat and some other products have been selling in the United States or elsewhere in recent months, this (price drop) may be inevitable."

STRONGER THAN IN '20'S

"If so we have the assurance that Canada is in a position to withstand a shock of this kind in a way that was not possible in 1920 or 1929. By refusing to allow Canadian prices to follow world prices in their sharp upward course we have insured ourselves substantially against the hardships consequent upon deflation in the future."

The government's aim, he said, has been "to get rid of any control we safely could drop, but not to get rid of those which were still needed."

"I should like to make it clear that the action of the United States government a week or so ago in abandoning price control does not mean that Canada must or will take similar action."

"We have no intention of removing price controls except in the orderly manner the government now is following."

"I do not pretend to know where the cost of living will ultimately settle . . . I do know, however, that the official cost of living index in the United States is now nearly 50 per cent above pre-war (as compared with 25 per cent in Canada), and that roughly one-third of this increase has happened since the end of the war. . . ."

100 Toronto Police Stand By To Trap Young Holdup Men

TORONTO (CP)—An emergency squad of 100 police officers today stood ready to strike at a moment's notice in the event of fresh escapades by two youthful drugstore bandits who wounded three persons, none seriously, in a point-blank gunfight with a police constable in a downtown Yonge Street drugstore Friday night.

Police said they believed the gunmen had staged four holdups in other central Toronto drugstores in the last eight days. A $500 reward awaits the person who brings about their capture.

Barefaced, each brandishing a black automatic, the holdup men, who appeared about 19 years old, strode into the J. Dudley Webb drugstore four blocks south of Bloor Street as the proprietor's wife, Nora, 43, rang up proceeds of a cigarette sale. One confronted Mrs. Webb, pointed his gun at her and snapped: "This is it."

At the same moment, Constable Douglas MacKay, 41, who had been chatting with clerk Silvio Lombard, 61, in the dispensary, stepped out of the narrow passageway into the store.

The gunfight followed, one slug striking MacKay in the side and staggering him. Another wounded clerk Lombard and still another hit Mrs. Webb in the hip.

Radio-equipped police cruisers sped to the area within a minute or two, but officers reported no sign of the men, believed to have ducked into a laneway.

Constable MacKay said he thought he had wounded one of the bandits.

Natural Increase In B.C. Of 8,485

Natural increase of births over deaths in British Columbia during the first nine months of this year has been 8,485, compared with 6,716 from January to September, 1945.

While reporting this the division of vital statistics also said the number of marriages was increasing.

The birth rate during September was 22.66 per 1,000 population with 1,773 births being registered. The rate during September, 1945, was 17.23.

Deaths during last September numbered 701, against 647 in September, 1945. The death rate for the first nine months of this year was 9.96 compared with 9.83 in the same period of 1945.

September ranked close to the usual top-marriage month of June this year when 1,191 marriages were registered against 858 during the same year of 1945. So far this year 8,435 marriages have been registered, against 6,651 during 1945.

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Vatican sources said tonight that Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac of Yugoslavia, who is serving a 16-year prison term in that country following his conviction of "crimes against the people," might possibly be named a cardinal if a special Christmas consistory is convened.

Smallest Tax Sale In City's History

The smallest tax sale in the history of Victoria was closed Friday with only 22 parcels of property being offered for sale, A. V. Danby, city assessor-collector, said today.

Ten parcels were sold to private buyers, mostly protecting mortgages, for a total of $1,552, and the city acquired the remaining 12 parcels at a cost of $763. The original owners of the properties have 12 months in which to redeem them before losing title, Mr. Danby explained, by paying all arrears of taxes, plus all charges of the tax sale, and interest at 6 per cent.

The properties on the tax sale list were in arrears of taxes from 1944.

Lethbridge Camp That Held Up To 15,500 Nazi POW's Closing

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—Canada's largest prisoner-of-war camp, which went into operation four years ago on the eastern outskirts of this city, will soon be closed after detaining up to nearly 15,500 German captives at the peak of its operations.

At this time only about 1,400 prisoners are attached to the establishment and they are to be evacuated to Britain during the next month.

It was learned that the next evacuation draft is scheduled to leave the camp Tuesday, when about 550 captives will start their journey in an 11-car special train for Halifax, N.S.

Expectations are that two further movements will remove all captives by about Dec. 17.

Tentative plans call for ending the operation of the camp on Dec. 18.

The camp went into operation near the end of November, 1942, and for a time held nearly two-thirds of the prisoners of war in Canada. Large numbers of captives have worked on Alberta farms and in forests of Alberta, British Columbia and Ontario since the prisoner of war labor projects was inaugurated in the summer of 1943.

The establishment's captive population and number of guards was sharply reduced last spring, about 10,000 prisoners being evacuated to Britain for labor purposes there before their repatriation to Germany. The 1,400 captives remaining were left in Alberta as agricultural workers, principally to supply labor for growing sugar beets.

Wants 'Real Friendship' With Britain

At the opening of the new session of the Egyptian Parliament, King Farouk told the members that while his government held the Anglo-Egyptian treaty needed complete alteration, he desired a state of "real friendship" between his country and the United Kingdom. $1,000,000 Worth Of U.S. Plasma Recovered In China

SHANGHAI (AP) — United States officials today recovered most of the 3,500 cases of American blood plasma recently sold inadvertently to a Chinese concern. The plasma, at $25 a pint which Chinese readily paid for it, would have retailed for $1,030,000.

A tip from two Associated Press correspondents led directly to the recovery of 2,000 cases in one warehouse and indirectly to the discovery of several hundred additional cases in a second. U.S. officials estimated the two lots represented the bulk of the plasma included in the recent sale of uninventoried navy surplus medical stock at Okinawa. The navy shore patrol placed guards over both stocks of plasma and officials of the Federal Liquidation Commission conferred with United States Consul-General Monnet B. Davis on how to obtain a release order from Chinese authorities. The plasma eventually will be shipped to the United States for distribution by the Red Cross.

Two thousand cases of plasma were discovered in the Commercial Express Transportation warehouse. Hundreds more cases were found by F.L.C. officials in the former International settlement on a tip obtained at the first warehouse.

Each case of plasma contained 12 packages of 500 c.c. each.

Discovery of the 2,000 cases was made by Fred Hampson, Shanghai bureau chief of the Associated Press, and Spenser Moosa, AP correspondent here, on a tip from the Soviet manager of a warehousing firm. They confirmed his tip that trucks of a Chinese concern were preparing to load the plasma, then notified F.L.C., Red Cross and United States navy officials.

Hospitals Ask Power To Make Tax Levies

VANCOUVER (CP) — The provincial government will be asked to enforce measures that will lead to greater financial assistance to hospitals on the part of municipalities, in a resolution passed Friday at the concluding session of the two-day 29th annual B.C. Hospitals' Association Conference.

Representatives from East Kootenay urged the provincial government to introduce legislation whereby districts desiring hospital facilities should be enabled to create a hospital district having the power to tax property for the erection and equipment of medical centres.

J. V. Fisher, B.C. Deputy Minister of Finance, was re-elected president of the association for the coming year. Other officers elected are: K. R. Reid, first vice-president; A. H. J. Swencisky, second vice-president; J. E. O'Mahony, treasurer; E. W. Neel, secretary.

Regional representatives on the executive committee include: L. R. Jordan, F. C. Ellis, Vancouver Island, and E. W. McMullen and G. H. Steve, Victoria.

3-Course Meal For Monty Brings $120 Penalty

PORTSMOUTH (Reuter) — Because Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, chief of the Imperial General Staff, and other guests were served more than three main dishes—all that is allowable under British food regulations—a Portsmouth firm of caterers has been fined £20 ($80) and ordered to pay another £10 10 shillings in court costs.

The meal, served at luncheon last July 26 when Viscount Montgomery received the "freedom" of the city, comprised soup, beef, chicken, peas and boiled potatoes; ice cream and cheese and biscuits.

Under Britain's austerity food regulations bread counts as one course. The meal was, therefore, five courses instead of three.

IS MEDICINE
DESTROYING ITSELF?

★ Things dramatic capture the imagination, sometimes to the point of distorting the perspective. This is as true in medicine as in other fields. The sensational results with sulfa drugs and penicillin are examples.

Less dramatic, but responsible for saving uncounted lives, are the broader public health measures. Sewage disposal; swamp clearance; water, milk, and food inspection are but a few of these triumphs.

The physician and the pharmacist have always been leaders in the field of preventive medicine. This fact led James Brice to observe, "Medicine is the only profession that labors incessantly to destroy the reason for its own existence."

The fight, however, is far from won. Diagnosis and treatment of disease are still the primary functions of the physician. The accurate filling of prescriptions is our responsibility as pharmacists.

Traffic Toll 32

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver's traffic fatality total climbed to 32 Friday with the deaths in hospital of 71-year-old A. G. Campbell, address unknown, and 26-year-old Frank Becker, 2234 Alberta Street. The death toll is two less last year's toll at Nov. 16.

Becker died as a result of injuries received when he was in collision with a streetcar Wednesday during foggy weather.

Esquimalt Indian Woman Convicted Of Manslaughter

Manslaughter was the verdict returned Friday afternoon by an Assize Court jury against Mrs. Ethel James, Esquimalt Indian, who was charged with the murder of her five-year-old niece, Rosan. The little girl's body had been found June 15, in accused's two-room cabin on Viewfield Road, disfigured by bruises, lacerations and cuts.

The verdict was returned after jury had deliberated their findings for two hours and 20 minutes. Sentence will be passed by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane at the end of the Assizes. Mrs. James remained in custody.

The dark Indian woman showed signs of strain when she was escorted to the prisoner's dock, but her features relaxed when she heard the jury announce that she was guilty of manslaughter. Her husband, who sat at the rear of the courtroom, dropped his head when he heard of his wife's guilt.

As soon as the verdict was rendered, the accused was escorted out of the courtroom. She walked calmly and displayed no signs of emotion.

Mr. Justice Macfarlane said the jury had done its duty, and rendered a verdict in accordance with their conscience. He adjourned the court until Monday.

Evidence at the trial revealed that the victim had been hit with both a sharp and blunt instrument which caused two hemorrhages and resulted in her death.

The Crown contended that the child had been beaten because the accused was jealous of her husband's affection for the girl. Mrs. James also admitted at the trial that the girl was often the cause of quarrels between herself and her husband, and evidence to this effect was produced in the form of a diary which was kept by Mrs. James.

BEIRUT (Reuter)—A Beirut woman, Zahieh Zahran, gave birth to quintuplets, it was reported here Friday. There were said to be three boys and two girls, all in the best of health at last reports.

Accident Tears Piece From Arm

A. W. Fisher, 1751 Carrick Street, an Oak Bay municipal employee, Friday had a piece of flesh torn from his arm by a milk truck driven by Arnold Wiens, employee of E. and T. Raper, milk suppliers, Oak Bay police reported.

Fisher was burning leaves on Cadboro Bay Road at the time of the accident and the vision of the truck driver was obscured by smoke, Sgt. W. H. Douglas, Oak Bay police, said.

Sgt. Douglas took the injured man to Royal Jubilee Hospital where Dr. A. N. Reid attended. Fisher was suffering from shock following the accident.

Sale Of Plasma

SHANGHAI (AP)—"Distribution caused by typhoons" is the official explanation of the sale of American Red Cross blood plasma to Chinese commercial firms which are retailing it at $25 a pint. The amount of plasma involved was not stated, but it was reported with millions of dollars at current prices here.

A United States navy spokesman, in a written statement, said Friday the plasma was part of 10,000 tons of medical supplies declared surplus by the navy after two severe typhoons partially destroyed stockpiles on Okinawa last fall.

The plasma, originally donated by Americans for servicemen, was advertised in Chinese newspapers as a quick restorative for depleted systems. It found a ready sale.

Increase In Influx Of U.S. Tourists

CHICAGO (CP)—Influx of United States tourists to Canada in 1946 is expected to be 28 per cent higher than in 1945, with a total of more than $200,000,000 expended in the Dominion, Leo Doland, chief of the Canadian Travel Bureau said Friday.

The expenditure by American tourists would have been higher, except for scarcity in Canada of articles the tourists usually seek. Mr. Doland said in an address before the National Association of Travel Officials.

Plan To Cut Power Of Veto Presented To Big 5 By Bevin

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (CP)—Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Secretary, Friday proposed a "Big Five" meeting to work out a formula to restrict use of the veto in the United Nations Security Council, but not to eliminate it.

News of Mr. Bevin's proposal, in a letter sent to delegation leaders of the United States, China, France and Russia, came as Senator Tom Connally (Dem.-Texas) was telling the General Assembly Political Committee that the United States would not agree of elimination of the veto power.

Acceptance of the Bevin proposal would permit dropping the hot veto debate for the time being until the Big Five have agreed on a formula or otherwise reported to the Political Committee. It was reported that all the other Big Five leaders, including Andrei Gromyko, permanent Russian delegate, look with favor on the proposal.

Senator Connally, shaggy-haired chairman of the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee, made a fiery speech declaring his country's firm opposition to charter revision eliminating the veto power, but pleading for wise and unselfish use of it.

Peru and Yugoslavia also opposed any change in the charter at this time and a short time later Soviet delegate Andrei Vishinsky delivered a slashing attack on the leaders of the effort to amend the charter.

Nanaimo Protests Removal Of Army Huts To Victoria

NANAIMO (CP)—Telephone and telegraph wires between Nanaimo and Ottawa are humming today with urgency messages from City Council, Canadian Legion and School Board advising the capital that definite trouble is brewing here if housing enterprises attempt to remove 30 huts from camp Nanaimo under material salvage to Victoria.

Men of the Legion, backed by public declaration of some leading citizens, is to the effect that the huts, needed badly for veteran housing under War Assets Corporation purchase negotiations, will be solidly picketed against demolition.

Officials here were deadlined at Nov. 18 by War Assets Corporation to arrange purchase of the huts and other buildings needed for school purposes. Three days before deadline and while localists await War Assets quotations, Housing Enterprises notified that it has acquired all the buildings and will start demolition.

"Definitely I will not turn a hand to stop them if they decide to picket," was the message Mayor George Muir telephoned to Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., Member of Parliament for Nanaimo. The Legion telephoned Hon. Ian Mackenzie and the School Board communicated with housing officials in Victoria.

Meanwhile, officials of Housing Enterprises in Ottawa indicated that the huts were not under the jurisdiction of Housing Enterprises.

"Only a small proportion of the camp at Nanaimo has been turned over to Housing Enterprises," the official said. "There should be sufficient shelter besides those to provide for accommodation in the district."

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Friday experienced its first taste of winter weather as temperatures dropped to 13 above and two inches of snow blanketed the city. Workmen covered street and avenue intersections with sand and cinders.

Sewage System Discussed By Duncan Council

DUNCAN—Need for adequate sewage system was stressed at a meeting of the City Council and Mayor G. H. Savage has been authorized to secure the services of a Vancouver civil engineer to go over plans of a sewage system prepared for the city two years ago as part of a postwar project.

The subject was brought up by Ald. W. Evans who said the V.I. Health Unit was far from satisfied with the present system of sewage disposal in the downtown area. The health unit is responsible for the sanitary supervision of the district.

Mayor Savage thought the matter should wait until the results of the attempt to purchase the Indian lands were known in case the sewage plans had to be changed. He agreed, however, that everything should be done to have the plans in readiness so that if the project was approved by the ratepayers there would be no delay in installing the sewage system.

Teachers' Meeting At Nanaimo Ends

NANAIMO — The two-day teachers' convention for Central and Northern Vancouver Island ended last night with a banquet and dance in the Plaza Hotel. Dr. John M. Ewing, principal of Victoria College, was guest speaker at the banquet which was attended by nearly 300 delegates.

A resolution urging the Department of Education to evaluate trade, business and professional experience so that specialist teachers may be placed on salary schedules in accordance with such experience, was endorsed by the Teachers' Federation. The Department of Education will also be asked to limit elementary school classes to 30 pupils and aid will be sought for equipment and operational expenses for visual education.

Fir Half Log Scale In Vancouver Area

Breakdown of the log scale for the Vancouver forest district, which includes all Vancouver Island, showed that during September almost half of the total cut of 260,989,076 F.B.M. was Douglas fir.

The September cut of fir totaled 117,597,321 F.B.M. while the cedar cut totaled 53,015,231 F.B.M. The cedar cut was exceeded by the hemlock cut which totaled 66,543,635 F.B.M.

Also cut in the Vancouver forest district was 3,668,448 F.B.M. of spruce, 15,024,873 F.B.M. of balsam, 2,102,106 F.B.M. white pine, 6,503 F.B.M. yellow pine and 557,235 F.B.M. cypress. Hardwoods cut in the district totaled 1,828,920 F.B.M. while cottonwoods totaled 635,804 F.B.M.

Total log scale for September, 1945, was 196,316,326 F.B.M. Besides the September log scale 2,037,268 lineal foot of poles were cut, 1,355,253 of this total being Douglas fir and 682,015 being cedar. Also cut were 1,523 cords of fir and 3,947 cords of cedar, and 3,098 fir and 963 hewn ties.

Timber Area To Be Preserved Near Maple Bay

DUNCAN—A $1,200 offer for 100 acres of timber on Crofton Road in the Maple Bay area was rejected by the North Cowichan Council in the interest of the scenery of the municipality.

The offer was made by George Whittaker, truck-logging operator, who stated in a letter sent to the council that he wanted the trees for cutting and was prepared to exercise every precaution in yarding operations.

The council unanimously agreed with Reeve D. D. Chapman, who said the area was one of the few remaining pretty areas in the district and should be preserved as a parkland. He also stated that the result of logging on the area would be a fire hazard to several private residences in the district.

Port Alberni Bridge Club To Adopt Child

PORT ALBERNI (CP)—A women's bridge club of this district decided to adopt a Czechoslovakian child through the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada—at Ottawa. Donations from the women are to help pay for three months of sanatorium treatment for the child.

The bridge club will name the sex and age of the child and in return receive a picture and case history of their ward. The prospective guardians first learned of the plan from Dr. Lotta Hirschmanova, Unitarian Service Committee worker, who addressed the Women's Canadian Club of Port Alberni.

New Federal Agent

PORT ALBERNI (CP)—Harold W. Harding of Ladysmith, has been appointed district government agent at Alberni. He succeeds J. H. Byrne, who was killed in an accidental shooting. Mr. Harding formerly served at Nanaimo and in the interior of British Columbia.

Officers Nominated By Duncan W.A.

DUNCAN—Officers nominated at a meeting of the Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary were Mr. W. E. Dennis, president; Miss F. Smythe, vice-president; Mrs. J. Fraser, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. F. Whitworth-Russell, secretary, and Mrs. C. E. Bradley, treasurer.

Mrs. C. E. Bradley presented the financial report while Mrs. G. Kennett gave a report on visits made to the local hospital.

NO AMENDMENT YET

Eloquent and colorful Senator Tom Connally indicated clearly at Lake Success yesterday that the United States would not sanction the removal of the veto power with which the San Francisco Charter clothed the five permanent members of the Security Council. But the American spokesman warned the political committee of the General Assembly that there should be "no embezzlement of power" by any member of the Council, and that "arbitrary or wilful" use of this prerogative could, over a period of time, cause disintegration of the organization. While studiously avoiding mention of the Soviet Union, whose spokesmen had employed the veto in "procedural" as well as in "substantive" matters, the Democratic Senator from Texas was categorical in his reminder that no member had a right to "cast a vote in any narrow, nationalistic, or selfish interest," and added:

"Membership in the Security Council carries no title of nobility, nor privilege nor preference. Members of the Security Council are trustees for all members of the U.N.
"The responsibility of the five permanent members is momentous, tremendous. It may have the effect of shaking the very foundations of the earth."

Until the discussion of the veto is ended, of course, objections will be heard from various delegates. For although Senator Connally reaffirmed the position taken by the United States at San Francisco, that the special prerogative of the Security Council should "be used only in very rare and exceptional cases," this tacit understanding has been ignored several times—and to all intents and purposes the relations between the original "Big Three" merely increase the apprehensions of the "middle" and "smaller" nations. When the United States, Great Britain and the Soviet Union close ranks, as it were, and return to that accord which gave them victory over the common enemy, the ever-haunting menace of the veto will lose much of its sinister implications.

What should be borne in mind, however, is that Senator Connally's flat declaration of American refusal to consider any amendment to the Charter of the United Nations at this stage conforms to the original political understanding of what safeguards would be required to induce the upper chamber on Capitol Hill to adhere to the organization. It will be recalled that at the Yalta conference, Mr. Churchill, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Stalin agreed upon the veto power. And before the San Francisco Conference, Senator Austin, a firm friend of world organization for a long time, again warned that without this provision it would not be possible to win the approval of the Senate. That position has been strengthened by recent political events in the United States.

EMBARRASSED LEFTISTS

MANY SERIOUS-MINDED BRITONS and the majority of well-read Americans will smile at the antics of that element of the Labor Party in the House of Commons which is demanding a change in British foreign policy. Others will deplore it because some of the remarks to which the extreme left wing is giving voice will provide a vehicle for another revival of an exchange between the Anglophobes in the United States and the anti-American minority in Great Britain. One had hoped, however, that Owen Wister's "The Ancient Grudge" had exposed such fallacies during the latter part of the First Great War.

Naturally enough, Mr. Harry Pollitt, general secretary of the Communist Party of Great Britain, has seized upon the present incipient revolt of some three score supporters of the British Labor government as an excuse to pit the two senior English-speaking nations against one another in a controversy which has no solid foundation to support it. For instance, he issued a statement at a party rally in which he included the fatuous suggestion that he believed "America aims to take Britain for a ride." Some members of Congress will doubtless rub their eyes in wonderment as they try to analyze the implication of this silly declaration. A few, of course, are not averse to using any pretext for indulging in the ancient pastime of twisting the lion's tail—especially the implacable and irrepresensible isolationists to whom any implied insult to their country is usually sufficient to set their tongues wagging.

Another of the "rebel" faction complains of what he calls "this one-sided sectional association with the United States," and urges Mr. Attlee and his ministers to drop such a relationship and try instead "the policy of equal friendliness and equal frankness towards the Soviet Union and the United States." And still another supporter of the Labor government informed the House of Commons that Canada's friendly neighbor was the only great power in the world where "some ordinary people wanted war." Just what he meant by that is surely beyond the comprehension of the majority of "ordinary people" over the border.

It is evident from the trend of the discussion at Westminster that the extreme left wing of the Labor Party in the House is somewhat embarrassed by the disinclination of the chief spokesmen at the Kremlin to meet British and American friendly advances half way. For the easy-going and essentially tolerant Briton, regardless of his political affiliations, is not fooled by the Stalin-Molotov blarney about war-mongering monopoly-capitalistic Anglo-Saxons. Hence the position of the Pollitts and their fellow travellers in Parliament is not an easy one; their attack on Mr. Bevin's foreign policy is, or they seem to think, the best way out of their ideological dilemma.

HELP OF THE HELPLESS

BEFORE APPEALING TO OUR CITIZENS for the financial strength which permits it to extend a helping hand to the unfortunate, the Salvation Army in this community has marked a milestone in its constructive history. Today its patron, Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks, turned the first sod in preparation for the construction of the new Citadel on Pandora Avenue. On this site, in days to come, the Army will be able to administer its many services more efficiently and enjoy, in its own home, those reasonable comforts and conveniences to which its manifold benefactions entitle this fine company of men and women.

The event is worthy of note, not because the Salvation Army places great store in the importance of its physical temple, but because the edifice will be a symbol of that open-hearted and sympathetic assistance and understanding which its members take beyond the walls of formal worship to those in sorest need of comfort, physical as well as spiritual.

The story of the Salvation Army needs little repetition. Its ear is ever tuned to catch the call for help; its response is warm and automatic. Because it has justified so fully the confidence of the public, it can expect generous support when, a week hence, it opens its two-weeks' campaign for funds with which to carry on the services it renders with true and practical Christian spirit.

RESTORING A LINK

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF RESTORING the Canadian-Australasian Line service, bringing ships back on the trans-Pacific run from this port to the Antipodes, will be lost on none of the Victoria interests connected with shipping in prewar days. Nor will the importance of this passenger and freight medium be ignored by exporters and importers whose resumption of business with the land "down under" has awaited restitution of regular transport. Very material benefits will accrue to British Columbia's capital from the return of vessels to this schedule.

But the arrival of the motorship Wanganella, expected here late next week, will signalize more than the renewal of trade opportunities. The ships which have plied the route in years past have taken on the character of a link between the peoples of Canada and the southern Dominion. On these vessels in earlier times have traveled Australians who came to learn more about this country and find a closer community of understanding as a result of their visits. The compliment has been returned by citizens of this nation who have made passage westward and come home with a better appreciation of the stature and character of the island continent and its energetic inhabitants. The recent inauguration of the Canadian-Australasian air service has, of course, given promise of facilitating exchanges between the two sister Dominions, but more people will be able to travel aboard the ships and the benefits should be multiplied in direct proportion. The arrival of the motorship Wanganella within the next few days will mark one more step along the road back to normalcy and the freer flow of citizens and goods between nation and nation.

TOO SIMPLE FOR EXPERTS

NOT SO VERY MANY YEARS AGO, Maxim Litvinov, the former Russian Foreign Commissar who understands western democracy too well to please the men in control at the Kremlin, made a simple statement which has a direct relation to the discussion on the Security Council's veto. He said:

"Let us say in advance that if any of the big nations commits an act of aggression the rest of the big nations will at once pounce upon her."

It was this same Russian statesman, it will be recalled, who also said that if the nations of the world really desired to disarm, the best way to accomplish that end would be to disarm. But his formula was too simple, to use the vernacular, to get to first base.

PROMISE OF BLESSINGS

ON THE SOFT, GREEN PILLOW OF their own foliage, violets in season offer an unmatched marvel of fragrant and delicate beauty. They play upon human senses in a way to set eyes shining and hearts singing. There is such daintiness to each flower on its slender stem, such depth of color and such clean crispness, that they seem to embody the spirit of the year at its richest.

Some touch of their inspiring presence has been caught by two freak-blooming violets which have lifted shy heads from their weathering clump on the southern slope of the garden. Perhaps a sun that smiles on the bank above the shining bay has coaxed them into precipitate bloom, has brought them forth unwary of the withering frosts of night-time. Their day is short; their color and scent are not as true as those that flower in another season. But in their brave though foolish blossoming they bring a hint of blessings to come when the cold days just beginning have passed and the garden surges in new growth.

CONFESSIONS OF A REVOLUTIONIST

IT MAY AS WELL be admitted at once that this observer limps far behind the march of American civilization. I do not read the comics. The world of modern fantasy, the general folk literature of the time, is beyond me. I belong to that forgotten and degraded era when every comic strip ended in a knockout blow, when Mutt and Jeff were the kings of the earth, when the strips, in fact, were comic.

It cannot be said, therefore, that I am prejudiced or merely dazzled by modern progress when I humbly announce myself as a follower of Little Abner. I am not a follower of anyone else. I know nothing of politics, of communism, socialism, social credit or technocracy, but I am proud to consider myself a citizen of Dogpatch. If we must have a dictator, as most of the modern political philosophies propose, Little Abner is the man for me.

LITTLE ABNER is regarded by the vulgar as a mere comic character. On the other hand, there are probably men in high public office, professors at universities and members of that dull lot calling themselves the intelligentsia who have never heard of Little Abner at all. Both the vulgar and the intellectual miss the whole point about Little Abner. He is a revolutionist, or rather a counter-revolutionist, and all my hopes of a better society rest on his counter-revolution.

Little Abner, disguising his keen mind and deep political understanding under a yokel's air, clearly understands what is wrong with America—it has ceased to believe its own myth of progress. It is tired of all its atomic toys and sick unto death of its skyscraper life. Little Abner bids America turn back to the simple ways of its fathers and he has more followers today than any American statesman.

THE CREATOR of Little Abner seems to be a simple man like his creation. As is true of all great artists, he probably does not know how or why he works, for it is only the inferior craftsman who can tell you the secret of his craft. Real art is beyond explaining. It may not have occurred to this artist, indeed, that he has achieved a high literary form, that he is one of the great figures of American literature. Whether he knows it or not, he is the current custodian of Mark Twain's tradition; he carries the torch of Walt Whitman; he expresses the great dream of the American frontier.

As to all great writers, the reader is attracted to this man's work by an unconscious instinct, by an instant recognition that this is the thing long sought and lost in the mists of human life. Little Abner is the man whom all sensible Americans would like to be. Dogpatch is the community which all free souls would inhabit if they were not trammelled by their bodies, imprisoned by their appetite for ease and luxury.

IN DOGPATCH nothing develops according to plan. All logic is defied. The laws of civilization do not apply. Man has no physical or chemical limitations. Anything can happen and usually does. Only there can a man throw off the chains which he has so laboriously forged, and be himself. Not since Alice's Wonderland has the mind of man created a region of such a divine madness, and the people of North America fly to it for two blessed minutes each day because they recognize it as their true home.

This was the way men were intended to live, without logic, without rules, without chains. Philosophers have understood that from the earliest times. You might say that Plato, in asking man to come out of the dark cave of his mind, was inviting him into the light of Dogpatch. Locke's doctrine of natural human rights is nothing more than the village by-laws of Dogpatch. Rousseau, if he were alive now, would undoubtedly be elected mayor of Dogpatch. And if anyone should question that Little Abner is pure literature, consider that Shakespeare would have been as much at home with Lonesome Polecat as with Falstaff, as congenial to Mammy Yokum as to any Wife of Windsor.

EACH OF DOGPATCH'S citizens, interesting in himself, is only the symbol of something much greater—the ancient yearning for freedom, for a different kind of life, for a glorious state of irresponsibility, which first brought white men to this continent. Alas, they found no Dogpatch. They finally found Main Street, alight with Neon signs and screeching with the monster voice of the juke box.

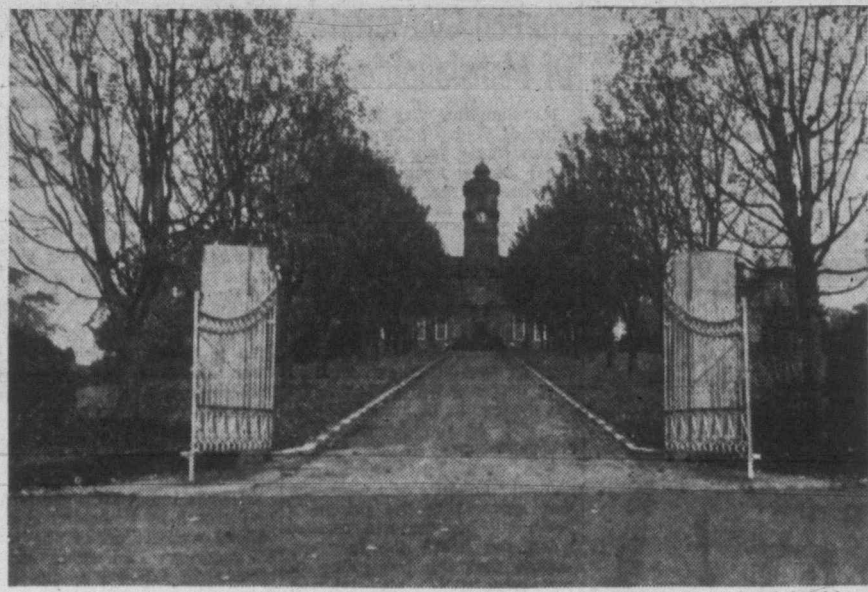

They will continue to live on Main Street and obey its laws. But the great dream will not die so long as men recognize true art when they see it as the aspiration for the impossible, so long as poor men and millionaires come home from their toil at night and escape for a moment into the highest realm of the spirit. We can never hope now, I suppose, to return American civilization to Dogpatch but, as Brownie undoubtedly would have said, a man's reach should exceed his grasp or what's Little Abner for?

Quoting

Democracy is becoming a much-abused word. It is often used by those who have never understood or practiced democratic principles to mean achievement of power by hook, or more often by crook.—British Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

One cure for communism is abundance. I know that all over this land there are G.I.'s raising the question, "Why can't we, in time of peace, produce as much as during time of war?"—Henry Wallace.

Notes On British 'Imperialism'

BECAUSE SO MANY Anglophobes have sought to castigate Britain on her "imperialism," it is interesting to note the brief outlines prepared from authentic sources on some of the more popular whipping-boys. Here are a few samples:

— Britain derives no taxes or tribute from the Dominions or the dependencies. On the contrary, the United Kingdom Treasury (i.e. Britain's taxpayers) has made available $120,000,000 ($480,000,000) for development and welfare in the dependencies over the next 10 years, under the Colonial Development and Welfare Act of 1945. When a similar Act was passed in 1940 making available a smaller sum, debts amounting to $11,000,000 ($44,000,000) from the colonies to Britain were canceled. Practically the whole of the defence of the colonies during peace and war is paid for by Britain.

INDIA. BRITISH policy in India was defined by the Prime Minister, Mr. Attlee, on March 15, when he said that Britain hoped that India would remain as a member of the British Commonwealth under a constitution of her own devising, but "if, on the other hand, she elects for independence, in our view she has the right to do so." This declaration has been accepted by Gandhi and Jawaharlal Nehru, and the latter is now acting as virtual head of the interim government and is vice-president of the Viceroy's Executive Council. The next step is the meeting of the Constituent Assembly set for early December. At that time, elected Indian delegates, about one to every million of the population, will gather to decide what kind of government they are to have, and to draft a constitution. In order that there may be no accusation of undue influence in the Constituent Assembly, the European community will refrain from sending delegates, though legally entitled to do so. The British Government have already promised to accept whatever constitution is chosen and to conclude a treaty with the new Indian Government.

BURMA. In Burma the chief task is reconstruction and rehabilitation of the economic structure shattered by the war. By next spring it is hoped to hold general elections based on adult suffrage, and to set up a popular government and a Burmese assembly to draft a new constitution.

Colonies. The long-announced Government policy on the colonies is to help them develop and improve their economic and social conditions so that they can achieve responsible self-government as soon as practicable. Constitutional advances are taking place continually. Within the last year alone there have been notable constitutional developments towards self-government in, among other dependencies, Ceylon, Nigeria, and the Gold Coast.

The Caribbean. Britain is co-operating with the United States, France, and the Netherlands, through the Caribbean Commission to solve the acute and chronic problems of that region, to raise the standard of living, and encourage political advancement.

THE FOLLOWING countries are not part of the British Empire, but are often discussed in relation to British "imperialism."

Palestine. In 1922 the League of Nations placed Palestine under a mandate to Great Britain, and at any time the League had the power to remove the mandate. If the territories mandated by the League eventually develop into a plan of trusteeship under the United Nations, presumably U.N. will have the same power of removal.

Egypt. Under the 1936 treaty of alliance with Egypt, Britain received certain privileges and undertook certain responsibilities, chiefly military and defensive in character. While the treaty still has 10 years to run, Britain has agreed to consider its revision with the Egyptian Government now, and negotiations are being conducted. Britain has already agreed to withdraw all troops and installations within a reasonable time, and has begun the evacuation.

GREECE. British forces were sent to Greece in 1944 at the request of the Greek Government to help in the re-establishment of stable conditions of law and order. They have stayed on at the invitation of successive Greek Governments, but have played no active part in Greek internal affairs since the civil war in December, 1944. By remaining in Greece, British troops have been a stabilizing influence in that faction-torn country. They have done so not by their actions but by their presence—because it was generally known that they were there.

Wisdom And Understanding

By J. S. Bousfield in The Rotarian

"WISDOM is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom; and with all thy getting get understanding." Here surely, in these old words, is the essence of the matter. The hermit in his cell may have spent a lifetime in study, but if the knowledge he has gained lies buried with him in his lonely grave, his life has been lived in vain and the world is no richer for his sojourn in it. He has been guided by a false ideal and leaves behind him a dead memory of wasted opportunity.

"Of the making of many books there is no end." How true it is, but how few of them are worth reading. The wise reader is he who can discriminate and select the fine metal of real literature from the dross of the indifferent and meretricious. The test of a book is surely whether or not it helps the reader to broaden his outlook and live a fuller life; to get that perspective which will enable him to form a truer view of human frailties, and to mold his life so that he may use the fruits of his reading in the service of his fellowmen.

It is not the knowledge that matters; it is the wisdom and understanding with which he applies that knowledge to build up his own character and help him to shed the light of love and hope into the dark corners of a struggling—and sometimes weary—world.

He, then, who is prepared in his pilgrimage through life, to read wisely and be guided by the wisdom of those who have gone before will have the power which knowledge brings to surmount his own difficulties and to hold out a helping hand to those less fortunate than himself, who have fallen by the way, turning, when things go wrong, to the Almighty a trusting heart and to the world a smiling face. So doing, he will come safely to his journey's end, and will leave behind him a memorial more lasting than one of stone, because it will be written in letters of gold in the hearts of men.

Letters To The Editor

CLOSING OF STORES

I understand Victoria citizens are to vote on December 12 as to whether compulsory closing of our stores on Wednesdays shall be the order of the day in future.

As a shopper I would like to put forward my point of view.— Our stores are already congested and housewives and others have to stand in queues. If several hours are cut off our shopping time the congestion and queues will naturally increase. Business women, with very limited time in which to shop, are going to find it even more difficult to make their purchases and certainly will have no time to "shop around."

Surely at the present time, when things are difficult anyway and we have not yet returned to peacetime economy, this is a matter that should be left to the discretion of individual merchants without compulsion, which is the democratic way. Let those who wish to close do so, but let the others stay open so that at least we have some service on a Wednesday. As I see it, the way to insure service is to vote No.

DORIS ASHDOWN, 634 Michigan Street.

LANGFORD HEALTH UNIT

Through the medium of your paper I would request the privilege to draw to the attention of the taxpayers of Langford area (further information regarding the proposed formation of a Health Unit in the district. This matter was the subject of discussion at a meeting of taxpayers last Tuesday evening at Langford School, at which time Mr. Andy Whiskers was elected a representative on the Advisory Health Committee.

The information I have is contained in a letter addressed to Mr. E. H. Emery of Colwood, and is signed by Miss Dorothy E. Tate, consultant of Public Health Nursing of the Provincial Board of Health. Miss Tate's letter states:

"Please note the statement that—service is made available to the local areas for a flat rate of 30 cents per capita per year, the remaining of the cost being provided by the Provincial Department of Health." The 30 cents mentioned is not in addition to that paid by schools for school health service. It is accepted as the 30 cents for school health service and also interpreted as being the required 30 cents from local areas in payment of part of the Health Unit costs."

As one who spoke at some length on this question, I believe that had this information been available in specific form at the time of the meeting, wholehearted support would have been accorded the proposed formation of a Health Unit, and I would wish to bring this to the attention of Mr. Whiskers, Mr. Ed. Clark and others who supported the stand taken by me.

I wish to state that the matter is now cleared to my personal satisfaction.

MOSLEYISM
From the London Daily Mirror
Sir Oswald Mosley is a more ardent Mosleyite than ever. In an interview with the "News Chronicle" he declares that his views have not changed. On the contrary they have become intensified.

WHY SHOULD MR. KING RETIRE?

From the Ottawa Journal
It is the privilege of a Prime Minister to change his mind, and if Mr. King is thinking of changing his mind and remaining as his party's leader, no one will complain. On the contrary—and we say this in all sincerity—all of us should be glad. In the last election some of us said that Mr. King should, for his own and his country's good, retire and write his memoirs, and doubtless if an election came next week some of us would say it again. We didn't mean it, of course, and wouldn't. We have sense enough to know, no matter what we say in a fight, that long experience such as Mr. King's is invaluable in Parliament.

And Mr. King's years don't matter. Gladstone at 76 entered upon six years of vigorous opposition, returned to office when he was 82, and with undiminished vigor was piloting a Home Rule bill through Parliament at 83. Mr. King is in his early 70's.

We have heard talk lately about some aim of Mr. King to break Walpole's record as Prime Minister. Whether Mr. King breaks Walpole's record is not important; what is of importance is that we keep in our public life—whether in office or opposition matters little—men or Mr. King's wide experience.

OH, SAY, CAN YOU HEAR?

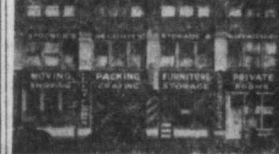

From the Halifax Herald
We sinful mortals are enjoined never to let the sun go down upon our wrath, but a good many thousands of Canadians, one may believe, have had difficulty in conforming to that good Biblical injunction . . . after their experience of last Sunday evening.

For our own part, we have allowed a few days to pass before mentioning that experience in the hope that we might be able to talk a little about it with what Winston Churchill would describe as "a reasonable and compassionate mind."

The CBC was staging its "Tenth Birthday Party." Why, few people will be able to comprehend. And why this decennial festival should have consumed the very cream of radio time is a proposition to baffle the understanding of Canadians from sea to sea. But it did . . . And instead of Fred Allen at 9:30, Canadian radio listeners got a farrago of CBC self-adulation.

The law of balance never fails. For each disease there is a "natural" remedy if men will find it.

on Behalf of Victoria's Second

BLUE BABY

Dear Fellow Citizens:

I would like to impress on the citizens of Greater Victoria and Vancouver Island that it is only through their support of our present campaign that we will be able to send Janet No. 2 to Baltimore, where she will receive the delicate heart operation which will mean life or death to her.

A service club is only in existence in order to help those less fortunate than ourselves, but the extent to which we can do this is dependent upon the support we receive from you the people.

We of the Lions' Club of Victoria are proud to be your agents on behalf of Janet No. 2. She is a Victoria baby and we must give her this chance for life.

Send your donation today to the Secretary of the Lions' Club, 1006 Blanshard St., Victoria, B.C.

J. B. PRIESTLEY,
Pres. Victoria Lions' Club.

And, as a matter of fact, that applies to summer also. A properly INSULATED house is a more livable house, a more comfortable house, a more SALABLE house. 57,494 X-Rays Net 78 Active T.B. Cases During 6 Months

The Department of Health and Welfare, operating two mobile X-ray units now and hoping to operate three next year, during the first six months of this year X-rayed 57,494 British Columbians in its widespread campaign to track down tuberculosis.

Of the 57,494 persons examined by the mobile survey units, 17 per cent were referred for further examination. About one-third of these, or 0.6 per cent of the total, were found to have tuberculosis, some inactive and some active cases. The entire survey during the first six months of this year discovered 78 persons with active infection.

Since 1944, when the mobile X-ray survey units began operations, a total of 175,000 persons have been examined in B.C. Of these 1,500 persons showed evidence of some form of tuberculosis infection. During 1944 90,119 persons were X-rayed.

The X-ray units were donated to the province by the B.C. Tuberculosis Society, the money having been made available through the sale of Christmas seals.

The department, despite this record, reported much remains to be done to fight T.B. in B.C.

"Tuberculosis was the fifth leading cause of death in British Columbia in 1945, with 518 deaths. Even more tragic is the fact that it was the second leading cause of death in the age groups from 20 to 40 years, and the third cause up to 20 years."

"At the end of 1945, there were 13,116 persons in the province known to have tuberculosis."

"Tuberculosis can be reduced by early case finding and prompt treatment. The X-ray is the only method of early and accurate diagnosis. The earlier the disease is discovered and treated, the greater is the chance for cure, and the less danger of the spread of infection to others."

4 Injured As Car Collides With Truck

Collision between an automobile and a truck carrying an airplane on East Saanich Road at 5.45 Friday evening caused slight injuries to four persons, Saanich police report.

Peter Hobson, 2284 Windsor Road, driver of the car, suffered multiple cuts and bruises to the face; his brother, George, suffered a badly lacerated thumb; his father, James Hobson, received scratches and a shaking up, and Isabel M. Clay, 169 Beach Drive, another passenger, suffered a lacerated scalp.

Herbert Nix, 4034 Zinnia Street, driver of the truck, was uninjured.

Cpl. Jack Hamilton and Constable Walter Mycock attended the scene of the accident and the injured persons were taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital by Constable Mycock. On arrival the four were treated and released shortly after.

According to the police report, Peter Hobson was proceeding to Victoria from Patricia Bay and was blinded by the lights of an approaching car.

Jeune Bros. Celebrate 60th Anniversary

Frederick Jeune, left, explaining to his sons, Robert, Percy and Fred Jr., the finishing of a ship's code flag.

Tonight a banquet at the Empress Hotel will mark the 60th anniversary of the founding of F. Jeune & Bros. Ltd. Established here in 1886 by Frederick Jeune Sr., the firm has expanded to become known as sail makers from the B.C. coast to the Bahamas, from San Francisco Bay to Lake Ontario.

Mr. Jeune chose to become apprenticed to sailmaking at the age of 12, and now, at the age of 85, he is still plying his art with all the zest and skill of a man one-quarter his years. Orders for sails, awnings, lifeboat equipment and other wartime necessities flooded the resources of Jeune Bros. during the war, which increased the staff to more than 50 employees. This was the second time that the firm has been called upon to serve Great Britain and her Allies, for during the First Great War all types of ships' gear made from canvas, rope and twine were supplied by Jeune Bros.

Three sons now help Mr. Jeune to run this industry. They are Robert, Percy and Fred.

In 61 years residence Mr. Jeune has brought fame to his adopted city, Victoria, as one of the few remaining places in the world where vessels large or small may be fitted with sail by a master craftsman.

Manning Mill Trebles Staff And Output In 10 Years; Celebrates

Marking their 10th anniversary, two Victoria firms held a joint banquet Friday night at Terry's, the Manning Lumber Mills Limited and the Manning Fuels Limited, with their president, F. A. E. Manning, presiding. The 70 employees of the companies attended and in addition there were several out-of-town visitors including Lloyd Ford, C. E. Effinger and W. Herford representing the Seaboard Lumber Sales Company Limited and the Seaboard Shipping Company Limited, of which firms Mr. Manning is a director. Other guests were W. E. Burns and H. E. Manning of the Canadian Forest Products Limited of Vancouver and H. A. Manning and F. C. Manning of Sprat Lake Sawmills Limited.

As a token of appreciation of long service pins were presented to the following employees who have been with the firm since its inception, W. J. E. Brookbank, R. Kellow, G. Wilmshurst, W. Holmes, L. Underwood and L. Kissinger.

Mr. Manning reviewed the growth of the firm since its inception which, in its first year, with 20 employees, produced 6,000,000 feet of lumber as compared to a present staff of 70 and a production of 15,000,000 feet a year. The Victoria plant has produced 112,000,000 feet of lumber since it commenced operations, which is the equivalent of 28 full ship cargoes and sufficient wood and sawdust to supply every man, woman and child in Greater Victoria with a unit and a cord of each. During the war the mill produced large quantities of high-grade Douglas fir for propeller stock for fighters and light bombers together with record shipments to the United Kingdom for construction lumber for aircraft hangers, the Mulberry project and other operations required to keep Britain supplied. Mr. Manning announced that logging operations would be opened up on their West Coast timber limits which are large enough to keep the mill in continuous operation for 25 years giving a permanent stability to one of Victoria's growing industries.

In the past two years 40 per cent of the lumber produced has been supplied to the local market in Victoria to build houses for veterans and erect buildings to house Victoria's expanding industry. The mill is now shipping to Victoria twice as much in one month as was normally shipped to Victoria in one year.

13,020 Veterans Now In Hospital

The number of patients in Department of Veterans Affairs hospitals and homes and in other hospitals under contract to D.V.A. has increased by 48 per cent since V-J Day. Hon. Ian A. Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans Affairs, announced today.

The total number of patients on Aug. 11, 1946, was 8,805 and this has now increased to 13,020 as of Oct. 12, 1946.

"The largest increase noted has been for veterans of World War II, being 135 per cent, whilst the number of veterans of World War I receiving treatment increased by 25 per cent," the minister said.

The number of outpatients increased over this period from 3,625 to 6,147 or approximately 70 per cent.

Service Restored

Parcel post service between Poland and Canada has been restored, according to an announcement by Postmaster-General Ernest Bertrand.

Congestion of shipping facilities beyond England caused the service to be suspended two weeks ago. Parcels up to 20 pounds in weight may now be sent at regular parcel post rate from Canada to Poland.

Informal Talks Held Here With C.C.L. Chief

Informal discussions, centring around social security and the 40-hour work week, were held at Memorial Hall Thursday night at a meeting of A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, with members of the Victoria locals of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and Other Transport Workers (C.B.R.E.).

Mr. Mosher, who was accompanied to Victoria with Mrs. Mosher, is president of the C.B.R.E.

Lieut.-Gov., Premier and Mayor Support Reserve Recruit Drive

"The effort to augment the Reserve Army Units, commencing next week, merits the wholehearted support of every citizen of Vancouver Island and particularly, those who can qualify for the category of eligible recruits," Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks, said today in referring to the drive next week for recruits for reserve units.

"In the war, so successfully won by the United Nations forces, the Island units established a record of valorous achievement, comparable to the highest military traditions. This standard of excellence can only be preserved by recruiting and maintaining the numerical strength of those units, and it will be a definite reflection on the citizens of this island if that strength is not maintained."

"The disciplinary and general training of Canada's Reserve Army has always been recognized as a valuable asset. It has developed individuality, resourcefulness, character; created environment and opportunity; induced desire for responsibility and the acceptance of the duties essential to good citizenship."

"All this is demonstrated not only by that record of valorous achievement but, also, by the many who, having contributed their quota in the cause of our freedom, have so readily re-established themselves in the life of the province and the Dominion."

"The patient, loyal and sacrificial service of the men of those units is our heritage, and I am pleased to support any movement which will serve to preserve this heritage."

Premier John Hart in supporting the campaign said, "I have learned with approval that the Victoria units of the Canadian Army Reserve force are about to launch a recruiting campaign to bring their establishments up to peacetime strength. We all look back with pride on the achievements of our British Columbia units and it is a source of satisfaction to me to discover that they are not content to rest upon what is now history but are accepting the responsibilities which exist even in time of peace."

Mayor Percy George said, "It is of prime importance to learn that plans are under way to reorganize to full strength our local reserve units in the Canadian Army."

"Victoria has a proud record in the history of the Canadian Army and in the last two world wars Victoria reserve units won high honors and many members of these units deservedly reached the highest posts in the service."

"I hope our young men will support the appeal now being made for recruits, realizing that whilst giving their leisure time to what is perhaps the most important civilian activity they will also be rendering a real service to the nation.

"On behalf of the citizens I wish the committee in charge of this campaign every success in their efforts."

Veteran Editor Of 'Recorder' Passes

Rev. J. P. Hicks, who was editor of the religious journal The Western Recorder for 47 years died in his home at 617 Drake Street Friday at the age of 83.

Mr. Hicks edited the journal from its start in 1899, and is shown in a typical pose on the job.

He was born in Cornwall, and came to Victoria 48 years ago. He served as minister in Methodist Churches in Cheam, Epworth, New Westminster and Victoria West, and from 1898 to 1902 was chaplain to the Imperial Forces at Esquimalt. During the same period he was financial secretary of the Methodist Conference.

He and Rev. W. H. Barraclough started the Western Recorder, which has been a journal of general religious and social interest, devoted particularly to the interests of the United Church of Canada.

In addition to his editorial work Mr. Hicks contributed articles to other papers and magazines.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, a daughter and two brothers. McCall Bros. Funeral Home is in charge of funeral arrangements.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Judge G. Malcolm McDonald awarded Albert E. Mackey a divorce Friday, but warned him he was "too good" a husband because he gave his wife all his pay cheque. "You should give her part of the money, but not all of it," said the judge. He concluded that Mackey was "too good for his own good."

Here's Effective, Really Gentle CONSTIPATION RELIEF!

Don't forget—the same Phillips' Milk of Magnesia that is so widely used for the relief of heartburn, gas or fullness due to acid indigestion, is just as wonderful for constipation. Just take 2 to 4 table-spoonfuls of Phillips' with water. You'll be delighted with its effective, yet gentle action. Speaking of Shortages:

WE DON'T LIKE SAYING

"Sorry, we've no weather-proof wire and can't give you service"

But there is no help for it because there isn't a pound of new or salvaged w.p. wire to be had for love nor money.

This shortage, just one among many being experienced by all of us today, is not local—it's nation-wide. Other people in other places are experiencing the same difficulties and inconveniences.

How long will this situation last? It is impossible to say. But we, like you, will welcome the day when manufacturers again are in a position to make regular shipments of w.p. wire and when we again shall be able to say: "Yes, sir, we can give you service without delay."

Personalities in the News

Early in the year Mrs. C. T. Beard, wife of Cmdr. Beard, M.L.A. for Esquimalt, traveled to England aboard the Danish motorship Ms. Erria, to visit her daughter Pamela, Mrs. R. W. Hankey, and her grandson, Peter. After a nine-month visit, Mrs. Beard returned to Canada again aboard the Erria, which docked in Vancouver two weeks ago. Cmdr. and Mrs. Beard live near Duncan with their second daughter Patricia. They expect Mrs. Hankey and Peter to fly out to visit them early in the new year. Lt.-Cmdr. Hankey is stationed with the R.C.N. in South Africa.

Mrs. Paul Arsens, socially prominent in Victoria's younger married set, was hostess this morning at her Arbutus Road home, with a coffee party. Later, at the tea hour Mrs. Arsens entertained a further group of friends.

—Associated Screen News

Prominent Victorians returning with Mrs. Beard aboard the Ss. Erria were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Davies, who have just completed a seven-month visit in Great Britain, France and Switzerland. Mr. and Mrs. Davies have been residents of Victoria for many years. Mr. Davies is a member of the Victoria Golf Club and Mrs. Davies has a wide circle of friends. At present they are residing at the Empress Hotel, where the above picture was taken.

Victoria will be the postwar home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gregson and their daughters, Sally, age seven, and Patsy, 15, who arrived in the city a week ago from Purley, Surrey, England. En route they stayed over at Oslo, Norway, New York and Montreal. At present they are in residence at Stadacona Guest House.

Three pretty maids and a petite flower girl preceded Mrs. Brian Calam up the aisle at Gorge Presbyterian Church on her wedding day early in November. The bridal party, pictured below, included Mrs. Herbert Hunt, the bride's sister, as matron of honor; Miss Patricia Calam, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Joan Beecher, bridesmaids, and little Bonnie Hunt, the bride's niece.

Historic old St. Luke's Church at Cedar Hill Crossroads was the setting, just a week ago, for the marriage of Mrs. R. H. Reid, pictured above in her wedding gown of eggshell satin with full-length veil embroidered in lover's knots. Her bouquet was pink rosebuds and white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Reid is the daughter of Mrs. Sheila McIvor, 564 St. Patrick Street.

Likes People—Enjoys Meeting Them

Mrs. Charles Arthur Banks, wife of British Columbia's recently-appointed Lieutenant-Governor, has clear blue eyes, short, slightly wavy hair that has been silver grey ever since she was 18 years of age, a graceful quick-moving figure, expressive long-fingered hands and a quiet voice.

Born in France, her early girlhood was spent in England but she has lived in so many different countries since then, she can almost claim world nationality. Her father was a Frenchman and her mother a Scotswoman. "Some people say that's a good whisky and soda combination," she says with a twinkle in her eyes.

Her name is Jean but her friends call her "Bunty" and somehow that name is just right for this charming woman who is chataleaine at Government House. High adventure, coupled with the romance of traveling to far places of the world has been the lot of Jean Banks nearly all her life.

In World War I she served in the women's auxiliary forces when her husband was a captain in the Royal Engineers.

WORLD TRAVELER

During World War II, she did voluntary war work in London for more than five years while her husband served as Canada's representative in England for the Ministry of Munitions and Supplies. In the years between the two wars, she accompanied Mr. Banks wherever his wide mining interests called him, and that meant all over the world. Traveling from place to place and from country to country, her homes have been many and varied.

In New Guinea, a tent in the centre of the bushland and a one-story wooden house in a native village on the edge of the Bulolo River. In San Francisco, a penthouse atop Fairmont Hotel on famed Nob Hill. In London, during the blitz and the buzz bombs, a small suite in Claridge's, in the heart of the city.

Now, it's Government House. "The first permanent home my husband and I have had in over seven years," Mrs. Banks says, "and we're going to enjoy making it a real home."

"We fell in love with Government House the first time we saw it, and we know we're going to be happy here."

Mrs. Banks is having fun getting settled in her new surroundings and she doesn't mind telling you about it. Like any other good housewife moving into a new residence she has spent much time the last few weeks superintending the unpacking of cases of furnishings, paintings and ornaments that have arrived from England, San Francisco or from safe places of storage where they have been kept for some time. "It's been so exciting," she says, "I'm finding things I'd forgotten I owned. Things I haven't seen in years."

One of her most prized possessions is a life-size painting in oils of herself, done by de Lazlo, the great portrait painter—copied many times in newspaper reproductions.

It has been hung in the state drawing-room. Also in the drawing-room is an ancient silk screen from old China; cases of exquisite jade and ivory pieces; a miniature silver tea service on a tiny mahogany Duncan Phyfe table and many other treasures gathered by the Banks in their travels around the world.

In her own private sitting-room, with its bright chintz-covered furniture, Mrs. Banks has a series of paintings in oils of Paris street scenes, a portrait of her French grandmother as a young girl (matched in the big drawing-room, by another in black and white, of the same grandmother at the age of 80), a smaller de Lazlo—Princess Elizabeth at the age of five—a gift from the great artist.

As can be imagined by her travels, Jean Banks loves the outdoors. She takes an interest in sports, especially riding, fishing and golfing. "But don't say I do any of those things well," she warns. "I've never been long enough in one place or had enough time to practice."

Then, with quiet sincerity, she added: "My greatest interest is in people. I enjoy meeting them and talking to them—and so does my husband."

That's why we are looking forward to traveling in British Columbia very soon. We want to visit the towns, the mining and logging camps, the fishing communities. We want to know the people and we feel the people have a right to know their Lieutenant-Governor.

If she had her wish Jean Banks would avoid the limelight and live quietly among her friends and "just with people." But now that her husband has accepted the responsibility of office she will fulfill her duties as "governor's lady" with gracious ease.

Preparations for their annual missionary bazaar to be held in the gymnasium of the Memorial Hall Nov. 23, are being made by the two branches of Christ Church Cathedral Women's Auxiliary, the Business Women's Branch and the Wednesday Afternoon Branch under the general convener of Mrs. F. J. Laughlin. Dr. Marion Sherman, president of the diocesan Board of the Women's Auxiliary, will open the affair at 2.30. Visitors will be received by Mrs. F. J. Laughlin, president of the Business Women's Branch, and Deaconess M. Simcox, president of the Wednesday Afternoon Branch. Tea will be served and novelties for Christmas gifts, woolies, fancywork, superfluties and home cooking will be on display.

Buff fingernails to keep them healthy.

Open ladies' millinery department—The Victoria Hat Mfg. Co., 712 View St., has recently opened a ladies' millinery department on the mezzanine floor. For the present this department will continue with complete renovation, alteration and manufacturing of ladies' custom-built hats and also carry a stock of ribbons, feathers, veils, flowers, etc. It is now possible to have your last season's hat remodelled to conform with the latest trimmings and styles in ladies' headwear or to your own individual taste.

The honeymoon will be spent in Seattle and Portland. For traveling the bride changed her wedding ensemble for a suit and three-quarter-length coat of cherry red, matching hat, black accessories and orchid corsage bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Hackwood will make their home at Departure Bay Road, Nanaimo.

In her few public appearances since her husband took office Mrs. Banks has shown her keen interest in people and her enjoyment in meeting and talking to them.

OXFORD

Gwendoline Martin Married At Home

Tall baskets of white and mauve chrysanthemums formed the setting at the home of the bride's mother for Miss Gwendoline Ethel Martin, daughter of Mrs. B. A. Martin, 1234 Balmoral Road, and the late B. A. Martin, when she exchanged vows with Gordon Eugene Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cooper, 939 Old Esquimalt Road, Friday at 8.30. Rev. G. A. Reynolds read the service and Cecil Heaton played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her brother, Richard Martin, the bride wore a white satin gown fashioned with lily-point sleeves, sweetheart neckline and fitted bodice, shirred at the low waistline. Her chapel veil was held with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and gardenias.

Miss Bernice Lerik, wearing a turquoise gown of lace with double net skirt, and Miss Lillian Curtis, in orchid sheer, attended the bride. They were headresses to match their frocks and carried bouquets of pink carnations and chrysanthemums.

Best man was Bernard Cross and ushering were brothers of the bride, Peter and Jack Martin. Following the ceremony, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Cooper assisted in welcoming guests at the reception held at the Martin home.

For the honeymoon trip to Portland, Ore., the bride wore a silk floral dress, a fur-trimmed coat of turquoise with matching hat and black plastic accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper will reside in Victoria.

Christ Church—Christmas parcels for Indian children of Kingcome Inlet were packed by members of Christ Church Cathedral A.Y.P.A. at their meeting. The president, Margaret McCulloch, was in the chair. Members must turn in materials for the next parcel Wednesday. Group Two will meet at the home of Mrs. M. Woods, Suite 101, 32 Marlborough Road, Corporate Communion will be held Sunday.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Shepard, 1508 Bank Street, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Mollie Heena, to Charles McIntosh, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. McIntosh, 2834 3rd Avenue, Vancouver, B.C. The wedding will take place Dec. 28 at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, at 8 p.m.

The engagement is announced of Phyllis Marion Baylis, only daughter of Mr. Frank W. Baylis and the late Mrs. Baylis of Victoria, B.C., to John W. Groves, son of Mr. S. R. Groves and the late Mrs. Groves, Major, Sask. The wedding will take place in Victoria on Dec. 18, 1946.

Joanne White Wed At First Baptist

A brown wool gabardine suit with powder blue accessories and corsage bouquet of sweetheart roses was worn by Miss Joanne White, daughter of Mrs. H. A. White, 2383 Musgrave Street and the late H. A. White, as she entered First Baptist Church with her brother, R. A. White, Friday at 8.30 to become the bride of William Fisher, son of Mrs. M. E. Fisher, Montreal, P.Q. The service was performed by Rev. G. R. Easter.

Wearing a dusty pink afternoon dress, Mrs. R. L. Davenport attended the bride. Her corsage bouquet was of violets and swansonia. R. L. Davenport was best man and ushering was Jack Bannan.

Princess Charlotte Room at the Empress Hotel was the scene of the reception, where Mrs. White assisted the bride party in receiving their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher left for a honeymoon trip to Vancouver and Seattle. For traveling, the bride donned a brown gabardine topcoat over her wedding costume.

They will reside at 548 Hillside Avenue on their return.

Musical Groups Meet

The Intermediate Musical Arts Society held its November meeting in the Truth Centre with the president, Miss Pamela Terry, in the chair. Reports were given by Miss Marjorie Patterson, secretary and Ray Le Huquet, treasurer. Mrs. J. Ingram Smith, adviser to the group, introduced the new executive. A program arranged by the Misses Madeline Collett and Dorothy Harding included the following artists: Betty Renny, Jacqueline Johnson, Ray Le Huquet, Terry Shaw and Beverley Bugslag. Guest soloist was Mrs. Alan Paver, accompanists were Miss D. Francis and Mr. J. Ingram Smith. Two musical films, loaned to the group by the National Film Board, entitled Leningrad Music Hall and Toscanini Conducts, were shown.

The Junior Musical Arts also met in the Truth Centre with a guest artist, Gordon Young, who played selections on his cello. Members taking part in the program were Daphne Slater, Malcolm Hamilton, Milton Creasy, Gordon and Marilyn Thomas, Ann McFadyen, Anne Williams, Kathleen Clark, Bernard Rain, Katherine Dixon and Sue Morgan.

Quiet Ceremony At Minister's Home

At a quiet ceremony in the home of the officiating minister, Rev. G. A. Reynolds, Grace Doreen Bishop, second daughter of Mrs. Clara L. Bishop, exchanged marriage vows with T. S. Winfield E. Douglas, U.S. M.C., Indian Island, Hadlock, Wash., Nov. 12.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, T. S. Oddy, the bride was attired in a grey check suit with tiny sequin hat. She wore a corsage bouquet of gardenias and deep red roses and carried a white prayer book.

The bride's sister, Miss Jean Bishop, was her only attendant. She wore a grey dressmaker suit and small sequin hat, and her corsage bouquet was of gardenias and pink carnations. George Ruddy Jr., seaman, first class, of Port Angeles, attended the groom.

A reception was held at the Kit Kat where Mrs. Bishop assisted the young couple in welcoming guests.

For a honeymoon trip to Seattle, the bride wore a three-piece black suit with matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas will take up residence temporarily in Port Angeles.

Diane Bradley Coming

A feature attraction of the forthcoming dance revue "Starburst" by pupils of Miss Wynne Shaw next Monday and Tuesday evenings at the Royal Theatre, will be the appearance of 11-year-old Diane Bradley, formerly of Victoria, now living in Vancouver, and who is coming to the city especially to take part in the show. Diane has danced in Miss Shaw's recitals since the age of four, and has in the past two years taken part in Reginald Hinck's pantomimes at Christmastime. She is at present studying singing with Mr. Bayard Haddock in Vancouver and won the junior vocal championship under 20 in the B.C. Musical Festival in 1945 and this year won the high soprano class under fourteen years.

St. Joseph's L.A. Plans All-Day Bazaar

The 'ladies' auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital will hold their annual all-day bazaar Thursday at the Nurses' Homes.

Mrs. C. H. O'Halloran will open the affair at 10.30 in the morning and there will be many attractive stalls including fancy work, aprons, home cooking, Christmas novelties, dolls, fish pond, tombolas and afternoon tea.

Arrangements for tea are being convened by Mrs. Llewelyn Jones. Other conveners and their assistants are as follows: Fancy work, Mesdames J. A. Cooney, I. Dixon, B. Hall, Wilson and J. Bell; aprons, Mesdames G. Brady, J. McLellan, G. Taylor and J. P. Watson; Christmas novelties and dolls, Mesdames A. McDermott, J. Alexander, J. A. White, W. M. Crawford, F. W. Gill and J. O'Brien; home cooking, Mesdames E. Hornsby, B. Reid, T. C. Rogers, J. Taylor; fish pond, Miss L. Whitehead, Mesdames F. W. Nolte and J. Morning; tombolas, Mrs. Dickinson; tea assistants, Mesdames J. A. McLellan and J. W. McConnell.

Presiding at the urns at the tea hour will be Mesdames Herbert Ancomb, Percy E. George, Kenneth Drury and Miss Kathleen Agnew.

Millions Use Fast-Acting ASPIRIN for Pain Relief -SO DON'T EXPERIMENT!

EVERY so often an ordinary headache—the kind most men and women have on and off—probably makes you miserable. And when it does, chances are that you take ASPIRIN for amazingly quick relief.

Millions know from experience that ASPIRIN is excellent for this type of headache. But if some day you should find yourself with a headache that ASPIRIN does not relieve, as it has always relieved your other headaches in the past, by all means see your doctor. For all headaches are not the common, everyday type and if your pain keeps up, it may be a sign that something more serious is wrong with you.

In this event, whatever you do—don't experiment! To do so may be harmful. Instead, see your doctor. Let him decide if you need a stronger remedy and if so, what kind.

Always remember that your doctor—and only your doctor is qualified to recommend a stronger remedy.

And remember, too, that for ordinary headaches, genuine ASPIRIN means fast, dependable relief.

When you buy, be sure to ask for ASPIRIN and insist that you get it. Don't accept a substitute.

FAST PAIN RELIEF

It Starts to Go to Work Almost INSTANTLY!

ASPIRIN is a single active ingredient that is so gentle to the system many doctors recommend it even for small children. Yet this ingredient is so amazingly effective—that ASPIRIN is ready to go to work almost immediately.

ASPIRIN is reasonably priced, too. In the family size bottle it costs less than 1¢ per tablet.

REMEMBER! Of all pain relievers, none can match ASPIRIN's record of use by millions of normal people without ill effect.

Back To Childhood To Get Real Kiss

Producer-director Otto Preminger had to take Linda Darnell and William Eythe back to their childhood to get the proper kiss "sound effects" for one scene in Jerome Kern's "Centennial Summer," the 20th Century-Fox technicolor musical opening Monday at the Capitol Theatre.

The scene, a reconciliation between Linda and Bill in the latter's office, had to be highlighted by a kiss that could be heard through the closed door by two nervous females in the waiting room outside. Try after try produced kisses that just weren't loud enough for Preminger. Finally he got an idea:

"Look," he explained, "you both are young. It isn't so long since you were going to Saturday matinees at the movies. All you have to do now is to remember the sound effects you used to make during the kissing scenes."

On the next "take," Linda and Bill proved that when they were moppets they must have been demon movie fans.

Preminger pronounced the "take" as perfect.

ROYAL THEATRE
"Meet the Navy," the musical motion picture of the Royal Canadian Navy's triumphant tour of Canada, Britain and the continent, which is the featured attraction at the Royal Theatre, is in many ways, the most unusual motion picture ever made. It's one picture in history where there was no problem with temperamental stars—everyone in the cast was equally important and no one demanded or received "top billing."

YORK THEATRE
The advent of a new romantic team in the movies is watched by fans with interest. Consequently, the news that Rosalind Russell and Lee Bowman are the new heart interest in Columbia Pictures' comedy "She Wouldn't Say Yes," the heralded racy, embryonic story currently at the York Theatre, should be of unusual interest.

YORK—"Catherine the Great," starring Douglas Fairbanks Jr.

OAK BAY, PLAZA THEATRES
After being shot, knifed and beaten to death on numerous movie occasions, screen-ménage Ward Bond dies by a more picturesque method in Universal's technicolor release, "Canyon Passage," playing currently at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

Bond, as the brutal killer Honey Bragg, is scalped by warring Rogue Indians during the famous Rogue Rebellion of '56, as described in the Saturday Evening Post story by Ernest Haycox from which the screenplay was adapted.

Dana Andrews, Brian Donlevy and Susan Hayward are co-starred in "Canyon Passage." Walter Wanger was the producer.

ATLAS THEATRE
Bob Hope, his co-star Joan Caulfield, and the rest of the cast of Paramount's "Monsieur Beaucaire," wear 18th-century costumes, but despite this, the film, which is now at the Atlas Theatre, is more aptly termed hysterical, rather than historical. For Hope is at his wit's best in this costume comedy, and that means unrestrained hilarity.

DOMINION THEATRE
Pat O'Brien took punishment during the filming of RKO Radio's new suspenseful drama, "Crack-Up," in which he is co-starred with Claire Trevor and Herbert Marshall, now at the Dominion Theatre.

He gets slugged twice, has a vicious fist fight, is imprisoned in the burning hold of a ship, leaps into the oily water of the harbor, smashes through a plate glass door of a museum, and is hit by a big statue which topples over him.

He came out of it all with nothing more serious than a sprained foot, a bruised knee, a sore neck, a scalp cut and blistered hands.

Uplands Golf Club Membership Now 435

Uplands Golf Club now boasts a membership of 435. It was disclosed at the annual meeting held this week. President R. B. Mathews acted as chairman.

In his annual report Mathews outlined the fine progress made by the club during the year and thanked the various committees for their support. He told of a proposal to purchase Uplands property and plans to increase the dues to meet increased costs of operation.

Successful reports from the match, house, green and executive committees were given by J. D. Ferguson, C. F. Smith, G. Patterson, E. Badminton, respectively. The auditor's report and financial statement was given by C. E. Revercomb.

The following were elected committeemen for the ensuing year: C. E. Revercomb, Dr. J. D. Calvert, Hugh Francis, A. E. Irish, R. F. Williams and S. Evans. They will serve with K. B. Mathews, G. Patterson, C. F. Smith and G. K. Verley on the executive committee for the coming year. Officers of the club will be elected next week.

Calgary Tornados Play At Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Calgary Tornados, junior football champions of the prairies, will play here Nov. 30 for the western Canada championship. It was announced Friday.

The Tornados will meet the winners of the Blue Bombers-North Vancouver city final scheduled for Sunday.

The game is sponsored by the Vancouver Junior Board of Trade and the Vancouver Daily Province, the newspaper guaranteeing $1,500 necessary to stage the junior classic. Any profits will be donated to the University of British Columbia's fund for a war memorial gymnasium.

Brayshaw Paces Hollywood To Win

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (CP)—Hollywood Wolves—top team in the southern division of the Pacific Coast Hockey League—won their 13th victory in 14 starts last night by shellacking the San Francisco Shamrocks by an 8 to 1 count.

The fast-skating Wolves coasted to an easy victory, punching in four markers in the first period, three more in the second and a single in the final period. Shamrocks scored their lone tally in the first period. Wolves' smooth-skating winger, Harold Brayshaw, was the high point-gatherer of the game with three goals.

VARSITY BEATEN

FOREST GROVE, Ore. (AP)—Halfback Stan Russell passed Pacific University to a 31 to 0 Northwest Conference victory Friday night over the University of British Columbia.

Pacific scored in every quarter, and held British Columbia at bay until the final period. Then the Canadians penetrated to the Pacific five, but the Oregonians managed to turn that into a touchdown for themselves.

Langdale Paintings At Little Centre

From the versatile brush of I. S. R. Langdale, internationally known artist who has exhibited in Paris, London, Venice, Switzerland and Austria an exhibition of 70 paintings and charcoal will be on display at the Little Centre next week.

Many of the paintings reflect local color in Beacon Hill Park, Uplands, Sooke, Victoria harbor and scenes of Vancouver, Kelowna, Salmon Arm and the Okanagan. Also included in the display are paintings of Italy, Switzerland and North Africa. For her notable watercolors, oils and aquatints Stella Langdale has won high acclaim from top-ranking critics. For a quarter of a century Miss Langdale has illustrated books for leading publishing houses. These include illustrations for Francis Thompson's "Hound of Heaven," Cardinal Newman's "The Dream of Gerontius" and Stephen Phillips' "Christ in Hades."

The Langdale exhibition will be opened on Tuesday evening by Lady Mary Swettenham when films will be shown, including "Painters of Quebec" and Tchakowsky's Sixth Symphony in B Minor played by the Toronto Symphony Orchestra.

Illegitimacy Soars In British Columbia

Illegitimacy, a product of the upheaval of war, is increasing in British Columbia.

To Sept. 30 this year the division of vital statistics had recorded 822 illegitimate births, compared with 698 during the same period of 1945.

An increase was noted for September when 91 illegitimate births were recorded, against 77 during Sept. 1945.

On the other hand adoptions are increasing. The division during September recorded 23 children born in B.C. had been adopted while 17 legitimations were put through during the month.

Trip To Moon Possible But Tough Getting Back

It is just a matter of time before the 238,000-mile trip to the moon may be undertaken, predicts Dr. R. M. Petrie, astronomer at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory.

The astronomer said a rocket trip to the moon was now within the "realm of possibility" if funds could be raised to launch such a venture. He added, however, the only hitch to such a trip was finding a way for the rocket to return to the earth—a matter of considerable importance for the occupants.

But the moon would not be a very interesting planet to visit, for Dr. Petrie points out that the moon is composed of volcanic ash.

For those who pine for longer days, Dr. Petrie said that days were getting longer and with time daylight would last for 47 days due to the gradual slowing down of the earth. But Dr. Petrie saw no reason to get excited about it as days were lengthening at a rate of one-thousandth of a second per century and it would take some billions of years before a day would last for over a month.

He also doubts whether inhabitants of the earth at that time would be able to enjoy the amenities of a longer day as things would be very close to the earth and would finally disintegrate and crash on this planet.

Dr. Petrie said it was now possible for scientists to predict with reasonable accuracy in a similar way to calculating the height of tides.

It was a different matter when scientist tried to unravel the origin of the universe, he said, because forces became so complicated that it became impossible to figure things out on a mathematical basis.

"The more you work back, the harder it gets," he said. "The forces then become too complicated for us to work out, despite the fact that we can make use of certain machines to aid us in our calculations."

Speaking of tides, Dr. Petrie said that the moon even attracted and raised the level of a lake, but to such a small degree that it was hardly noticeable.

There was only one tide in Victoria, he said, because of its relative position to the moon, but in other areas, such as the North Atlantic, there were two tides daily.

Missing Pair Found

EDMONTON (CP)—An R.C.A.F. search plane Friday located two men missing for 14 days in the snow-capped mountains north of Norman Wells, N.W.T., R.C.A.F. headquarters here announced.

Jack Barber of Lethbridge, Alta., and Ed Garton of Aklavik and Norman Wells were located about 40 miles north of Sheldon Lake by a plane piloted by Sqdn. Ldr. W. C. Sanderson of Edmonton. They were overdue on a 220-mile tractor trip from Norman Wells to Sheldon Lake.

Acquaintance in Edmonton said Barber is not a brother of Joe Barber, Jamestown, N.Y., pilot, reported missing last June during a plane trip to Alaska.

Ministers Invited To Agriculture Meet

Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam, Works Minister E. C. Carson and Trade and Industry Minister Leslie H. Eyres have been invited to address the 13th annual meeting of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture to be held Dec. 3 and 4 in Hotel Vancouver.

The meeting will discuss parity prices and the need for a Dominion natural products marketing act as well as elect officers and directors.

Other Victorians invited to attend include William MacGillivray, director of extension and development for the provincial agriculture department and director of the Dominion-provincial farm labor service for B.C., who will discuss land clearing and labor problems; Mrs. Stella E. Gummow, superintendent of provincial Women's Institutes, and Mrs. A. S. Dennis, president of the provincial W.I.

Ontario Prepares For Civic Elections

TORONTO (CP)—The municipal election pattern in Ontario will take shape within the next 10 days with nomination day in most cities either Nov. 22 or 23 and elections Dec. 9.

One city—Welland—beat the general opening gun by holding its nominations Friday and qualifications today.

Mayor H. W. Walker received an acclamation for his second straight term in office.

Four other cities, including Toronto, will have January elections.

British Columbia First To Establish Blood Transfusion

To British Columbia goes the honor of being the first province in Canada to establish the new Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service, operation of which will commence early in the new year. Maj. Gen. R. O. Alexander, C.B., D.S.O., has been named chairman of the Victoria committee in charge of arrangements in this area. Other provinces in Canada will shortly institute similar services until Canada is organized as the first country in the world to undertake such a national service.

This new service will be carried on through co-operation of the provincial government. Temporary quarters for provincial depot and laboratory will be ready in Vancouver within the next two months. This will serve as a training base for other provincial depots. A national headquarters for the service has already been established in Toronto.

This service has been undertaken by the Red Cross as a major part of its peacetime program.

Under a suggested scheme the society would provide hospitals, free of charge, with whole blood, plasma and sterile transfusion equipment. Such hospitals in turn, would make no service charge to patients for transfusions administered in this way. Each province would provide premises for a transfusion depot and bear cost of maintenance while the Red Cross Society would bear total operational costs.

Eagles, Home Cafe Top Bowling League

Commercial fivepin experts ended the first round of their season's play Wednesday night at Gibson's Bowldrome with two teams definitely in the playoff picture, and the third playoff spot to be decided at the close of the season.

Eagles finished out in front with 18 victories in 27 games to garner one of the playoff spots, the other going to the Home Cafe team with a 15-game win record. Liberty Cafe, Quality Market and Ideal Barbers tied for third with 14 games won, and they will engage in a post-season playoff for that position.

Besides having three of the top four in the individual averages, Silver Spring are leading the financial five-pin league by two games over their nearest competitor, Cameron Lumber Co. The soda pop trundlers have an 18 and 6 record as compared to the sawmill workers, 16 and 8 mark. Horseshoe News and Shamrocks are in a third-place deadlock with 15 wins each.

Hugh Cowan leads the trundlers with a mark of 229 compiled in nine games, while Jim Ford of Shamrocks is in second place with a 216 average. The next two places are held by Carl Pederson and Alec Olynek of Silver Springs, with marks of 210 and 209.

Sussex Cafe maintained their lead over the field in the Commercial ten pin circuit with 20 wins, but Canadians and Pollard Construction are pressing the leaders with 18 and 17 victories, respectively.

Jack Young of Shaw Sheet Metal, cracked the high single mark this week with a score of 255, while Ian Donaldson rolled the high triple of 579.

LADIES' LEAGUE

In the Ladies' Commercial five pin loop, Victors and Has Beens are tied for the lead with identical marks of 15 and 6, with Sally Shops one game behind with 14 wins.

C.O.D.'s top the Spencer's circuit having won 19 out of 27, and they are closely followed by Ahey Cats and Dynamiters with 17 victories. Credits and Dough Girls are next in line with season marks of 16 and 11.

A close race is developing in the New Method League with five games separating the top place Monkey's team from the cellar occupants Camels, Lions, Elephants, Buffaloes and Panthers are only a game off the pace with 13 wins to their credit.

Commercial Fivepin League standings in first round follow:

Team	W	L	Pts.
Eagles	18	9	18
Home Cafe	15	12	15
Liberty Cafe	15	12	15
Quality Market	14	13	14
Ideal Barbers	14	13	14

OFF TO AUSTRALIA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The United States Davis Cup team left today aboard the Pan-American Airways Clipper "Malay" for Australia and the Davis Cup finals.

Second N.H.L. Club For New York With Building Of Mammoth Garden

NEW YORK (CP)—There's many a slip... but by 1950, New York again may have two National Hockey League teams.

If plans now on the fire-go through, one club will play in the circuit's largest rink—the proposed $20,000,000 new Madison Square Garden which will seat 22,400 for hockey, more than 4,000 above the capacity of the Chicago Stadium, now the largest indoor sports emporium in the United States.

The prospect of an N.H.L. team to take the place of the defunct New York (later Brooklyn) Americans was held out today by an official of New York Rangers. This official, who preferred to remain unidentified, said: "A reputable group of sportsmen well known in the New York area will run the new N.H.L. club if it is approved by the league's board of governors. The new team will be run in direct competition to our Rangers and will be owned by outside interests who will operate on a tenant basis."

Brig. Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick, president of the Madison Square Garden Corporation which will run the new arena, in explaining how the two gardens would operate, said competition not is only probably but an integral part of the overall scheme.

DEMPEY INTERESTED

Gen. Kilpatrick said the new interests which would run the new team are not yet known. But in the last year several wealthy sportsmen have been interested in purchasing the franchise of the Americans, suspended in September, 1942. At that time Mervyn (Red) Dutton, former league president and manager of the Americans, blamed the collapse on the fact that the Garden had no dates available for the 1942-43 season and that other sporting events had "scuttled" the Brooklyn team.

Jack Dempsey, former heavy-weight boxing champion, is known to be interested in purchasing the franchise. Dan Topping, head of a syndicate of wealthy sportsmen, also is reported to be interested in hockey.

By PETE SALLAWAY

THERE IS MUCH talk going the rounds of British Columbia's racing fraternity of the introduction at the next session of the provincial legislature of a bill to place control of horse racing in B.C. under the complete jurisdiction of the province and not the individual municipalities in which the tracks are located. Although no statement has been forthcoming from the government several racing men I have contacted admit they have heard of such a plan and are of the opinion some action is contemplated.

SUCH A MOVE by the provincial government would no doubt be a direct outgrowth of the trouble experienced last fall by the Vancouver Thoroughbred Association in its operations at the Willows. Despite the fact that the association had permission from the department of agriculture at Ottawa, which controls pari-mutuel betting and approves the actual racing dates, to operate for three weeks at the Willows, Oak Bay refused to issue a permit for more than two weeks.

At one time the association was faced with the prospect of being able to operate for only one week. At that time an appeal was made to the attorney-general by the owners of the thoroughbreds in an effort to have him intercede on their behalf for three weeks racing but he informed them there was no action he could take under existing regulations.

RACING MEN point out that such action as taken by Oak Bay threatens the very existence of racing in this province. They feel there is always the possibility that the B.C. Turf & Country Club Ltd., who operate the two mile tracks on the mainland, Lansdowne and Brighouse, may run up against a hostile council in the municipality of Richmond.

Third Vancouver track, Hastings Park, is located in the city of Vancouver. Any reduction of the days of racing means a distinct loss to the province in revenue, both from a percentage of the betting handle and amusement tax on the date receipts.

FOR SOME TIME a certain group of British Columbia racing enthusiasts have been campaigning for the setting up of a commission to govern the sport in British Columbia. Wallace Kelk, secretary of the British Columbia Racing Breeders' Society, at present in England to purchase brood mares for owners in this province, has been a strong advocate of a commission. However, many of the racing men do not favor a commission as they fear such a body might easily become a political football. They would rather have racing administered by the attorney-general's department.

Knockout Victory

MANCHESTER, Eng. (CP)—Bruce Woodcock, 25-year-old British heavyweight champion, knocked out George Martin of France Friday night in the third round of a scheduled 10-round nontitle bout. Woodcock weighed 191 pounds, Martin 187.

The Briton's next big fight is scheduled with Joe Baksi of Kulpmont, Pa., in early 1947 in London.

Army-Navy Vets Upset Legion Basketballers

Army and Navy Air Force vets sprang a mild surprise at the Victoria High School last night when they defeated the Canadian Legion hoopers 45 to 40, faced by Tommy Joyce, who notched 10 points on some brilliant shooting, they erased a Legion first quarter lead and fought their way to a well-deserved triumph.

With the Legion enjoying a 20 to 10 lead half way through the second quarter, the Vets suddenly broke loose with a flurry of baskets and reached the breather on the short end of 27 to 25 count.

Still down three points at the end of the third quarter, Vets came back strongly to completely outplay the Legionnaires in the final canto as they dominated both backboards from their heavier and taller opponents and outscored the losers 11 to 3. Legion missed several opportunities to score near the close of the match, but highly erratic shooting cost them any chance they may have had of closing the gap.

Joyce with 18 points, 13 of them coming in the first half, was the outstanding player on the floor. Rowe and Dale with 12 and 10 points respectively, topped the losers. Numerous fouls were called throughout the contest by referees Harknett and McGladery, the Vets potting 15 out of 23 first shots and the Legion 16 of 32.

STILL UNBEATEN

Brentwood Aces maintained their undefeated record in the senior B race as they trounced MacDonald's 38 to 32 in a hard fought match that wasn't decided until the final few minutes.

St. Louis College Alumni came through as expected in their match with the Bruisers, and wound up on the right end of a 36 to 24 score. Curtis notched 15 points for the winners.

Teams and scores follow:

Vets—Clarkson 4, Booth 8, Joyce 18, Brown 3, Creed 7, Lone 2, Herlihy 13, Leroy-Dale 11, Walker, Hall, Rowe 12, Watson 2, Goldsmith 8, McKeachie, Woodhouse 5, Fox, Baker 2.

Canadiens-Leafs In Ice Battle Tonight

From the building that has seen this contest come to be designated as "wrestlers vs. woodchoppers," National Hockey League fans in Toronto could be pardoned today if they headed for Maple Leaf Gardens expecting to see some mat promoter's surrealistic dream of a battle royal on ice.

Plays Tonight

BERT NELSON... in fullback spot.

Victoria Mustangs and Vancouver Meralomas battle tonight at Athletic Park under the floodlights in their Big Four Canadian football semifinal. Kickoff is set for 7:30. Winner will go up against Vancouver V.A.C. in the final for the Lipton Cup, emblematic of the British Columbia championship.

Junior Gridders In 2 Games Tomorrow

Two games are on deck for junior-American grid-followers at Central Park tomorrow afternoon, with the Royal Canadian Navy meeting the Oak Bay Gobblins in the stellar attraction at 3.

Navy showed surprising strength in their win over the J.B.A.A. last week, and will be out to make it two straight at the expense of the Gobblins, who dropped a close decision last Sunday to the Legion Bears.

St. Louis College Bobcats, idle for two weeks, will meet the second place Legion Bears in the opener of the double bill at 1:30. The Collegians gained a tie in their only match to date.

Women's Golf

Mrs. R. Watson topped the class A medal competition at the Uplands Golf Club with a net 75. Mrs. R. L. Pocock led the class B finishers with a net 79.

In the par competition, Mrs. W. Erickson finished on top in class A with a score of 2 down, while in B class Mrs. F. G. Hope with a score of 4 up, led the field.

The match between the captains and the secretary's team finished in favor of the former squad 1 up.

That idea was first implanted by Frank Selke, manager of Montreal Canadiens who as long as three weeks ago designated Toronto's Maple Leafs as "the best wrestlers in the league" and furthered in the counterblast of Toronto's Conn Smythe, who could see no hockey ability in the Stanley Cup champions, only first-rate woodchoppers.

The billings for the game also de-emphasize the hockey, describing it as an "atomic clash" featuring "those rugged world champions" against "hockey's fighting gamecocks," also known as Smythe's "Bucking Buckaroos."

The fireworks may explode and if they do you can bet there'll be a capacity crowd on hand to watch them. But the chances are they will be interspersed with plenty of bang-up hockey, as will every other game in this five-card week-end which sees the teams starting their second month with but six points separating top and bottom.

RUGGED SCHEDULE

Both Leafs and Canadiens go on to a second week-end tilt, so the casualty lists had better not be too heavy. The Leafs play their second tilt Sunday night against the fifth-place Rangers at New York while Canadiens go on to Boston to take on the rugged Bruins.

With Montreal, Toronto and Boston all tied for first place with 13 points each, one of the three has an opportunity to open up a margin in the standings.

The other week-end clashes are a second Saturday night title, pitting the last-place Chicago Black Hawks against the Rangers at New York, and a third Sunday night contest, in which Chicago takes on the Red-Wings at Detroit. Hawks and Wings are tied for fourth position, each with eight points.

As they... this fifth week-end, almost every team has at least one man on the injury lists. Meanwhile, rumblings of a move to inject more youth into Canadiens were heard anew in Montreal. The upshot of a deal involving four players was that George Parfeter, a 22-year-old left-winger from Calgary, would join the champions in Toronto in time for tonight's clash.

Parfeter comes to Canadiens from Springfield Indians of the American Hockey League, who get three players in return. Two wingmen, Johnny Quilty and Joe Benoit, go to Springfield from Canadiens.

In addition big Jack Portland is being transferred from Buffalo to the Indians.

Paul Ministers To Thessalonians

Scripture: Acts 17:1-7; I Thessalonians 1:2-8.
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

The 17th chapter of Acts tells of Paul's visit to Thessalonica and of the founding of the church there. But the two Epistles that Paul wrote, I and II Thessalonians, are necessary to complete the story.

Taken together, the account in the Acts and the two Epistles throw a great deal of light upon the nature and method of Paul's ministry, as well as upon the condition under which the churches that Paul began were founded, the character of their membership, and their duration and problems.

Danger and difficulty beset Paul everywhere that he began to preach and teach. Jews were roused to opposition when he taught that Jesus was the fulfillment of Old Testament prophecy, and this opposition became persecution.

Paul's enemies tried to get him into trouble with the Roman authorities by accusing him of saying that there was a non-Roman king, one Jesus. These enemies were so successful that Paul and Silas had to escape for the time being, and Jason, their host, had to give security to the authorities.

But Paul and Silas must have returned, for in the Epistles Paul commends the Thessalonians for what they have done to make Christ known in all the region. Apparently, the city had been made a centre from which to carry on missionary activity.

The membership in the church at Thessalonica seems to have consisted chiefly of Greeks, and women (Acts 17:4), and the same was true of the neighboring church at Berea, though men there are specifically mentioned (Acts 17:12). Some Jews also joined the Christian group, but the preponderance of Gentiles may account for some strange problems that arose in the church.

In the new company of Christians were evidently some idlers and loafers, possibly drawn to the Christians by the teaching that one should share with and help his neighbor. These idlers sought to impose upon their more sincere and faithful brethren.

Paul's urging in his First Epistle that everyone should be quietly faithful in business.

working with his own hands, was evidently not enough, for in his Second Epistle he plainly says that he who won't work shan't eat. Perhaps it is for this reason

Hart Leaves Nov. 24 For Ottawa To Work On New Tax Arrangement

Premier John Hart will leave Victoria Nov. 24, to discuss with the Dominion cabinet arrangements for a financial deal to replace the wartime tax agreement which ends for British Columbia March 31.

Mr. Hart, announcing the date of his trip, also said that while in the east he would discuss plans for extending the provincially-owned P.G.E. railway into the Peace River and British Columbia's demand for elimination of the "mountain" freight rate differential. Also to be discussed by the premier will be the application of the Canadian railway companies for a 30 per cent boost in freight rates.

G. Neil Perry, adviser on economics to the provincial government and director of the Provincial department of trade and industry bureau of economics and statistics, J. V. Fisher, deputy minister of finance, and Percy Richards, Mr. Hart's secretary, will accompany the premier to Ottawa.

While Mr. Hart has made no official announcement of what he believes will be the outcome of the discussions on the financial arrangements, it is considered possible the Dominion's latest offer, made by Finance Minister J. L. L. L. in his last budget address, and British Columbia's minimum demands are too far apart to result in the signing of an agreement.

Should no agreement result, it is possible the provincial government will again levy income and corporation taxes, which may be collected by a provincial income tax organization or by the Dominion government on behalf of the provincial government.

Several other provinces have already signed agreements with the Dominion government providing for Ottawa to pay a lump sum to the provinces in return for income and corporation tax rights.

During the war B.C. agreed to collect no income and corporation taxes in return for an annual payment of more than $12,000,000 by the Dominion government.

V.L.A. Officer Promises Repairs For New Braefoot Estate Homes

An official of the V.L.A. housing project said today in answer to complaints from veterans that the dwellings were steadily deteriorating that repairs would be made to homes on the Braefoot Estate as soon as the houses had settled and materials were available.

This announcement followed a meeting of representatives of 28 tenants at the project Friday night in the S. Luke's parish hall. The meeting decided to forward through Maj.-Gen. R. Pearkes, M.P., a protest to Veterans' Affairs Minister Ian Mackenzie demanding an investigation of the project.

A. Palmer, executive secretary of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, said the tenants had every justification for protesting. He added that the protests were: 1. The houses were not worth the price being asked for them. 2. Because of poor sewage disposal systems, the houses would not be fit for habitation within a short time.

3. The plaster was not properly put on.

Gen. Pearkes in his wire suggested the government act immediately to reduce the total cost of the project so that veterans could secure the houses more cheaply.

The V.L.A. official said it was known that a new home needed a certain amount of repair after the foundation had settled. He added the veterans had taken over the dwellings with the understanding that repairs would be made to the homes as soon as the houses had settled.

"Plaster on the walls usually cracks in a new home," he said, "and defects usually appear in a newly constructed house."

He said the contractors had been fully aware the houses would need a certain amount of fixing up, and that veterans, who had taken over the dwellings, had been told to expect a certain amount of deterioration as the houses settled.

He added there had been a certain amount of delay in repairing the houses due to the shortage of materials.

Far East Trade Expert To Visit Here Next Week

Kenneth F. Noble, Canadian government trade commissioner who is going to Hongkong to take charge of the trade commissioner office there, will visit in Victoria next Wednesday to meet Vancouver Island manufacturers and exporters interested in doing trade with Australia and the Far East.

Vancouver-born and a graduate of the University of British Columbia, Mr. Noble joined the trade commissioner service in 1932 and in 1933 was posted to Hongkong. He subsequently served in Singapore and in February, 1942, was posted to Sydney, Australia.

Appointments to meet Mr. Noble may be made through the office of the trade commissioner, provincial Department of Trade and Industry.

Woman Hurt By Stone Hurler At Streetcar

Officials of the B.C. Electric Railway Company today sought city police assistance in attempting to locate someone who yesterday afternoon threw a stone through a streetcar window and injured a passenger.

The injured passenger was Mrs. J. E. Mills, 1039 Carberry Gardens, who suffered an eye injury caused by splintering glass from the window broken by the stone. Mrs. Mills was riding in a Willows car proceeding up Fort Street, between Cook and Linden.

Reinstate City S.P.C.A. Branch

Victoria branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was reinstated by a resolution passed unanimously at a meeting of the B.C. body of the organization in Vancouver Friday, R. D. Harvey, K.C., legal representative for the Victoria branch, said today on his return from the mainland.

"With regard to the action taken by the B.C. society at the meeting Friday, the decision of the special general meeting was to reinstate the Victoria branch unconditionally," Mr. Harvey said.

"During the debate, representatives of the Victoria branch agreed they would appoint a director to represent them on the parent body."

"The matter of co-operation between the branches of the society with the parent body was freely discussed and a better understanding was arrived at by delegates from all parts of the province."

Attempts Hold-Up Of Cab Driver

Early this morning a man made an attempted hold-up of Frank Hart, Yellow Cab Co., as the cab stopped in front of the British Public Schools Club on Langley Street.

City police report that Hart was first called to the club by the man who then rode around in the cab for a time before asking to be taken back to the club.

When they reached their destination the man put what appeared to be a gun to Hart's neck and said, "This is it. Give it to me."

Hart, on seeing three men standing in front of the club, jumped out of the cab and ran over to them. When the cab driver did this, the hold-up man ran north on Langley Street, turning west on Yates, and disappeared.

WHEELER—There passed away in this city on November 14, 1946, Ross Wheeler, aged 69 years, born in England, and a resident of Victoria since last April. He leaves to mourn his loss two daughters, Mrs. J. H. Worfield, of North Kamloops, B.C.; Mrs. A. D. Taylor, of Vancouver; two sons, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Worfield, of North Kamloops, B.C.; and three granddaughters, Mrs. J. H. Worfield, of North Kamloops, B.C.; Mrs. A. D. Taylor, of Vancouver; and Mrs. J. H. Worfield, of North Kamloops, B.C.

YARD—There passed away on November 15, 1946, Robert Garret Yard, aged 69 years, of 69 Wellington Avenue, Victoria. The late Mr. Yard was born in Bristol, England, and had been a resident of this city for the past 23 years. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, Mrs. Yard, and three children. The funeral will be held in St. Joseph's Church, Douglas, B.C., on Monday, November 18, 1946, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

WYOG—The funeral of Harold Desmond Wyog took place Friday afternoon at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, when the Rev. H. Z. Brown, Bishop of British Columbia, conducted the service, assisted by the Ven. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Numa, in the presence of a large congregation. Mr. J. Gerry presided at the organ.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. M. E. Groves and family wish to thank their many dear friends for the beautiful floral tributes and kind messages received by card and letter during the recent sad loss of a loving husband and father.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. G. Lamerton and family wish to thank the many friends for their kind messages of sympathy in their recent bereavement. Beautiful floral tributes, cards and beautiful indited letters, which were so timely, from the C. & A. Ambulance, Dr. R. B. Robertson and Dr. Conn, the St. Joseph's Hospital and nurses, to the home of the bereaved family, were a great help in their time of need.

IN MEMORIAM

ATTWELL—In proud and loving remembrance of Kenneth Dudley Attwell, who died in service of his country, Nov. 16, 1943. "Living always in our dearest memories."

HANNAN—In loving memory of our dear son, Kenneth Robert Hannan, who was killed in Scotland, Nov. 17, 1945. One year has passed since that sad day. God called the one we loved away. Forgive him, dear friends, for he is still in our hearts, he is still with us. The little boy who was so dear to us. The only one who has left us so soon. The loss of a son and brother without farewell.

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (CP)—An epidemic of mumps is worrying officials of the Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League—and well it might with three regulars already stricken.

Forwards Ivan Wilson and Frank Hoskins were the first victims, coming down with mumps, after the Canucks had turned back Regina 4 to 3 Monday night to go into a tie for first place in the league standing. Defenceman Jimmy Bedard joined the list Friday.

City Resolution
To U.B.C.M. Meet

Victoria's request that the time limit for the passage of by-laws under the Shops Regulation and Weekly Half-Holiday Act be extended from 30 to 60 days, has been referred to the next convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, R. F. F. Sewell, secretary, informed the City Council today.

He said the resolution was discussed at the U.B.C.M. executive meeting in Vancouver early this week. He also pointed out that at the present time by-laws of Kamloops and Vernon are before the courts and information arising from the decisions in these cases may be of assistance in the further consideration of the matter.

The City Council wanted the matter to go before the next sitting of the Legislature to get the necessary amending legislation without waiting for another U.B.C.M. convention.

Market Maintains Equilibrium

NEW YORK (AP)—Aside from a few shaky leaders, the stock market maintained its equilibrium fairly well today in the face of a country-wide coal strike threat.

From the start dealings were among the slowest of the last several years with the ticker tape frequently at a standstill. Early losses of fractions to a point or so were reduced in most cases in the final hour, and a number of modest plus signs appeared near the close.

No Agreement Among
Western Provinces
On Rate Equalization

Works Minister E. C. Carson, back today from a conference of the four western provinces on freight rates, said the governments had decided to make a joint submission to the Board of Transport Commissioners opposing the Canadian railways' application for a 30 per cent rate boost but British Columbia had reserved decision on questions of equalization of rates.

British Columbia government, Premier John Hart had announced earlier, was opposed to granting the increase in rail freight rates while the present "mountain" rate structure is in force. The other western provinces did not, at the conference held in Edmonton, set their ways clear to join with British Columbia in this protest but it is possible that they will after giving the matter further consideration.

Beside Mr. Carson the B.C. delegation to the two-day-long Edmonton conference included R. S. O'Meara, provincial government trade commissioner, G. Neil Perry, economic adviser to the provincial government and director of the provincial trade and industry department's bureau of economics and statistics and C. W. Brazier, representing C. H. Locke, K.C., special counsel for the provincial government on freight rate questions.

The meeting felt it was possible the application of the railway companies would go before the commission sometime early in 1947.

In the meantime the various provincial governments will prepare further data on the questions and will arrange for their representatives to meet again to prepare the joint submission to the board.

Mr. Carson said the Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba governments did not feel they could immediately support British Columbia's plea for abolition of the "mountain" freight rate because some sections of the province were in favor of this rate while others were opposed to it. He said there was a feeling among some representatives it might be dangerous to interfere with the present commodity rates of the railroads.

Deny Queen Elizabeth
In Mine-Infested Waters

LONDON (Reuter)—Reports urgent radio warnings of mines in their courses had been sent Friday to the Cunard liner Queen Elizabeth and the United States Lines Ss. America, now steaming from New York toward the British Isles, were denied Friday night by officials of the Cunard White Star Company and the Admiralty.

Thursday, a fishing trawler was blown up off Cork, Eire, with heavy casualties.

A Cunard official said the 84,000-ton luxury liner Queen Elizabeth would not alter her course.

Chinese Official
In From Shanghai

Tsing-Yao Lee, manager of the Central Bank of China and one-time Chinese consul in London, Eng., left aboard the ferry Iroquois today for Seattle, en route to San Francisco, after arriving here Friday from Shanghai aboard the Norwegian motorship Sophocles, Cecil Ridout, manager of King Bros. Ltd., shipping agents, reported today.

Accompanying Mr. Lee, who has played a leading part in the affairs of the Chinese Nationalist government, was his wife, Hsu Lan-Chu Lee; his son, Wai-Dao Lee, 18, and his daughter, Nee-Dao Lee, 17.

Mr. Lee and his family stayed aboard the Sophocles, berthed at Ogden Point docks, for the night before leaving to catch the ferry to the U.S.

Also among the passengers aboard the Sophocles was Capt. F. L. Sabel, a U.S. national now serving with the Chinese customs, who is going home on leave.

Boy Scouts Need
More Leaders, Says
Field Commissioner

The Boy Scout Association was refusing membership to hundreds of boys due to the lack of scout and cub leaders, Freeman King, district field commissioner, said at a rally of some 1,200 Greater Victoria Scouts and Cubs in the Bay Street Armory last night.

In his appeal for volunteers to run Scout troops, Mr. King pointed out that some pack leader had as many as 45 boys to handle and were refusing members because of lack of help.

Good character and a liking for children was required of a potential leader, said Mr. King, who pointed out that no greater service could be rendered to the community than taking an active part in Boy Scout activities.

In stressing the importance of Boy Scout work, Mr. King pointed out that the city of Victoria has never had a member of its group in court as a juvenile delinquent.

At the rally the Scouts and Cubs were entertained with a juggling act by Glen Denny and a motion picture shown by the British Columbia Forest Service.

The gathering also joined in a sing-song, led by Freeman King. Dr. W. Kirgin, president of the British Columbia Boy Scouts Association, attended the rally, with Major H. B. Hunter, district commissioner.

Venture Crew Members
Return Home By Air

VANCOUVER (CP)—Seventeen crew members of the fire-swept former British Columbia coastal steamer Venture arrived here Friday night by air from Honolulu and said the vessel, recently sold to Chinese interests, was "almost a wreck" following the fire which swept her at the Hawaii port.

The crew members praised the helm of Third Officer D. Nutter who dashed below when the alarm was given, and awakened sleeping firemen and engineers. No decision has yet been made whether the ship will be repaired by her new Chinese owners at Shanghai.

Eric Marshall Back
In Transportation
Business Here

Eric Marshall, well-known in the transportation business here, has been appointed passenger agent, ocean, rail and air services, for George Paulin Ltd., 912 Government Street.

Mr. Marshall returned to Victoria from overseas a year ago after serving since the beginning of the war with the Royal Canadian Artillery. He held the rank of captain on discharge.

Before the war Mr. Marshall was agent here for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway and general agent for United Air Lines. He operated the Old Country booking office on Government Street, opposite the Post Office.

Since his return here, Mr. Marshall said he noticed the development of air travel in this area is one of the most notable features in the transportation world.

Lighthouse Tender
In For Repairs

Dominion government lightship tender Estevan is scheduled to arrive here today for annual overhaul, according to W. L. Stamford, agent for the Department of Transport.

The Estevan will go on the ways at Yarrow's Ltd. and will later be drydocked for underwater repairs. Biggest single job to be done on the vessel is renewal of refrigeration space.

The Estevan has just finished work in the Fraser River area, repairing and replacing buoys.

THOSE MISSING TREASURES

I MUST SAY I was glad to hear that the priceless collection of 136 tapestries and other art treasures spirited by Polish emissaries across the Atlantic for safekeeping in Canada during the war, were not missing, after all.

The 400-year-old tapestries, originally part of the lavish decoration at the royal palace in Krakow, Poland, and given to the Polish nation by their king, Sigismund Augustus, late in the 16th century, found a hiding place in various churches and monasteries throughout Quebec.

At the end of the war, the treasures were to be redeemed, by a password. But apparently, owing to some friction between the present Polish representatives in Ottawa and those representing the Polish government-in-exile to whom the treasures were entrusted in Canada, their hiding-place remained too hidden to suit some.

SALT MINE SECRET

HENCE THE MYSTERY and the subsequent hints of theft which at first looked as if they might have international repercussions but which, happily, have now been cleared up with the discovery of the hoard in the Quebec convent to which it was originally consigned.

This art furore recalls to mind a similar outburst of hysteria—but for a different reason—which occurred in the United States over another valuable collection of European art treasures.

While searching a salt mine near Merkers, Germany, last year, U.S. occupation forces stumbled on about 200 priceless paintings by such old masters as Raphael, Bellini, Botticelli, Rembrandt, Rubens, Correggio, Giotto, Franz Hals, Titian, Van Eyck, Holbein and Vermeer.

The Germans, it was learned, had hurriedly removed the pictures from the Kaiser Frederick museum in Berlin and other museums in the hope of saving them from destruction by Allied bombs.

ACCUSED OF LOOTING

BECAUSE OF THE impossibility of protecting them and preserving them under the conditions in the occupied zone, the American authorities decided to remove the paintings to Washington, D.C.

And since last December they have been stored in air-conditioned vaults in the National Gallery in the U.S. capital. Meanwhile, President Truman and the War Department announced that there was no intention of confiscating them. The old masters were being held in trust for the German people, to be returned to them as soon as conditions permitted.

Despite this official assurance, however, a group of museum officials passed and published an amazing resolution practically accusing the U.S. Army and government of "looting." Its terms defined the action of the U.S. authorities as almost indistinguishable from the "protective custody" used by the Nazis in sequestering art treasures of the countries they had occupied.

EXHIBITION 'FANNED'

HARDLY HAD THE repercussions from that accusation simmered down than another furor had been created, originating from the same source.

It appears that suggestions were made in American art circles that the paintings in question be placed on exhibition in the United States before being returned to Germany, in order that the public might have this rare opportunity of seeing some of the most famous art in the world.

But the museum group which accused the U.S. government of looting propensities again rose up in arms against the proposal. One can, of course, understand their rather touchy sense of responsibility as temporary custodians of a collection which has an estimated market value of $80,
